STANFORD REPORT SAYS:

Jefferson High District Needs More Top Staff

Jefferson Union High school district needs more top personnel so there can be time for educational experimenting and pilot programs according to a Stanford report given Jefferson trustees Monday night.

The report on the district, prepared by Stanford University School of Education, said:

"It is typical of the load being carried by all administrative personnel that no new experimental or pilot programs have been initiated this year."

The Stanford report recommends the hiring of five new district personnel, including a person in charge of curriculum development, director of personnel, psychologist, purchasing agent and superintendent of building and grounds.

The curriculum development will be in charge of initiating and co-ordinating curriculum changes, developing instructional aids and helping principals improve teaching methods.

Jefferson high school district trustees received the Stanford report favorably Monday night. Trustee Lyall Ingersoll commented that, "We have finally met something along these lines needed to be done for some time."

The Stanford report said that the Jefferson principals are overburdened and do not have enough time for classroom supervision and other administrative tasks.

The report recommended that the school counselors take over all individual pupil guidance, relieving the deans for administrative duties.

The new district wide curriculum co-ordinator would also give the principals more time to spend administering their schools.

"In order to keep up with present trends in American public education, there will have to be great changes in curriculum content, teaching methods and support of education in the coming years," the report said.

Monday night Jefferson trustees passed a resolution, thrashed out in study session last week, opposing the state's unification mandate and calling for opposition to any attempt "to splinter the district."

The trustees' resolution said they would stand ready to "consider any plan which has the unanimous approval of all of our contributing elementary districts."

In other business, Jefferson trustees approved a request to the Army to lease government land below the Nike site in Pacifica to complete grading for an athletic field at Oceana high school.

Trustees also approved the hiring of Carl M. Smith, science teacher at Jefferson, and Natale Frehling, foreign language teacher at Westmoor, as long term substitutes. Thomas Glover was appointed as Adult school instructor.

Board Will Stand Fast On Policy

Members of the Jefferson Elementary School District board of trustees indicated Monday night they fully intend to stick to an announced stand on unification, despite what one trustee called the "negative attitude of other boards.

The Jefferson board last week adopted a policy approving the principle of unification, opposing a plan proposed by the San Mateo county committee on school reorganization, and calling for Brisbane and Bayshore to join with it in a unified district.

Trustee O. Wayne Douglas summed up the thinking of several trustees Monday night when he declared:

"If we're confronted with other boards that do not favor unification in principle, then we should not kid ourselves and think that we're going to get any co-operation toward unification."

Board President Thomas Noonan said:

"I think if we do find people opposed in principle, I don't think we should allow this to discourage us."

Softly Critical

Noonan was softly critical of the stand taken by the Jefferson High School district board of trustees in opposing the state's mandate to unify and opposing any attempt to "splinter" its district.

"This is a negative sort of thing, not a positive one," Noonan said.

He added that "with the possible exception of Brisbane, our district is the only district willing to consider a unification plan."

Mrs. Katherine Mullen, a permanent member of the county committee who had voted against the Jefferson Elementary proposal, warned that the committee was looking for a plan acceptable to all the districts, not five different proposals.

The county committee has asked five school districts in Northern San Mateo county to agree on an alternate plan to one it has proposed—calling for unification of four elementary and one high school districts into one unit comprising the present boundaries of the Jefferson High School district.

Second Meeting

The five districts will meet for a second time in an attempt to come up with such a plan. A previous meeting ended in complete disagreement.

At that time, board representa-

Brotherhood Rally Slated

Daly City's annual Brotherhood Rally will be held at the War Memorial building Sunday, February 24, at 8 p.m.

This will be the fourth year the rally will serve as a climax to National Brotherhood Week.

The week was begun as an observance in 1934 by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

The conference was founded in 1928 by Charles Evans Hughes, S. Parkes Cadman and others. Its purpose is to promote the national ideal of building "one nation, under God, indiyisible, with liberty and justice for all."

At the rally, religious and civic leaders will take part. The Levister Singers of San Francisco will perform. Refreshments will be served for a fellowship here after the rally.

All citizens of Daly City are invited.

The annual Invitational Brotherhood Luncheon for civic, school and church leaders will be held Thursday, February 21, at the Westlake Community Baptist church. Cantor Harold Wachter will sing and Superior Court Judge Frank Blum will speak.

The two events are sponsored by the Daly City Ministerial association through a committee composed of Rabbi Solomon Shore and the Reverends Kenneth Hansen, Hansel Stembridge and Herbert Tweedie.

Another Mixed Up Valentine's Day

ANNETTE YOLANDA BRENDA

Triple(t) Confusion

Valencia Girls Still Hard to Tell Apart

By DON MILLER

Three very young ladies will observe their fifth Valentine's Day in Daly City tomorrow in very much the same way they've been doing for the past four years—by totally confusing neighbors and friends.

The confusion is understandable.

The three are Daly City's well known Valencia triplets.

And if you've ever met them, chances are you couldn't tell them apart.

After all, mom and dad—Mr. and Mrs. Mariano Valencia of 112 East Vista avenue—still get confused, particularly when they see the girls in profile.

The triplets, Annette, Yolanda and Brenda, will be five years old March 17, St. Patrick's Day—a state of affairs that's sure to evoke the usual annual round of jokes, the Valencias say.

Both parents are of Mexican ancestry—not Irish—and the birth of their triplets on the same day all Ireland lights up is an endless source of amusement to the family.

The girls were born in a nine-minute interval, starting at 1:12 a.m. March 17, 1958, culminating a pregnancy that the mother's doctor feared at first would not succeed.

"We knew in the fifth month that triplets were on the way but the doctor told us not to get our hopes up," Mrs. Valencia recalled.

The mother is a petite five-foot and the doctor told her she was too small to bear triplets.

"But we prayed and prayed and our prayers were answered," Mrs. Valencia said.

The triplets were born a month premature at Mary's Help hospital but only one needed the help of an incubator. Their weights ranged from four pounds, one ounce to five pounds, four ounces.

Their birth caught the parents completely without supplies of diapers and other baby-care necessities.

"We knew chances for their birth weren't good and we knew that if things went badly we would be even more heartbroken if we had a lot of diapers and other things on hand afterward," Mrs. Valencia explained.

Not only did the births surprise mom and dad, the happy event gave the family five daughters within three and a half years—and all of them on diapers.

The triplets joined sisters Christine, now 4 years old, and Cynthia, now 7.

"The two girls welcomed them (the triplets) home so well that there was nothing but joy—and work," Mrs. Valencia added.

Because of a near-impossible task of telling the triplets apart, the parents relied for the first four months on identification bracelets provided by the hospital.

As they grew older, the girls developed personality characteristics that made the job easier but the confusion still cropped up with often hilarious ramifications.

"For instance," Valencia recalled, "one day I was walking home from the store with the three girls and one of them was behaving badly. So I spanked her.

"Right after I did, a neighbor who had been watching us came up to me and said I had spanked the wrong girl—that one of the other triplets had beeen misbehaving. After that, I decided never to try any spanking again."

On another occasion, the father went on, he was dressing the triplets while his wife was busy with the older girls.

"I told one of them to go wash her face. She did and I told another to do the same and, later, the third. As it turned out, I had told the same triplet three times and I wound up with one very clean face and two dirty ones.

If the confusion is funny at home, it might not be at Vista Grande school a half year from now.

The triplets are scheduled to enroll in kindergarten at the school and thereby give the teaching staff its first case of triple vision.

Aware of this prospect, at least one teacher has offered a suggestion to Mrs. Valencia. The mother explained:

"The teacher told me: 'Listen, before you send the triplets to me, why don't you put some sort of identification bracelet on them?"

Mrs. Valencia said the idea is being carefully considered.

If it works, that triple vision should be alleviated.

If it doesn't, well, Vista Grande is in for one or its more animated—and undoubtedly delightful—school years.

Blue Ribbon Company Due At Lunchtime

The pupils at Colma school may not be aware of it yet but they're going to have some rather important company for lunch one of these days.

The company will be members of the Jefferson Elementary School District board of trustees.

The board last night decided to sit in on a luncheon session after Schools Superintendent Richard F. Foster told of plans to attract more participation in the lunch program on the part of pupils.

A management consultant report had urged increased participation.

Foster said Colma pupils in three or four weeks would be given the option of purchasing a hamburger, hot dog or torpedo sandwich as an alternative to the school meal at an additional cost of five cents.

Minister Aids in Arrests

An observant minister helped Daly City police nab two persons Monday night who broke into telephone booths at three locations in Daly City, police reported.

The minister, who preferred to remain anonymous, noticed Stewart M. Wellhouse, 39, a salesman, and Donald E. Buckley, 29, a cook, both of San Francisco, open the top part of a public telephone at Hillside boulevard and Mission streets, police said.

Realizing that servicemen would not be working so late at night, especially without a truck, the minister followed them, police reported. The burglars broke into two more phones.

The minister ran up to the nearby Daly City police station at 75 Wellington street and summoned Police Officer Robert Ingbrigtsen, who arrested the two suspects.

ON LEGAL PATH

Daly City Asks Planners for an Annex Decision

By RON BATES

The Daly City council continued along a legal path on its way to annexation of the inhabited portion of Bayshore City Monday night.

After City Attorney Paul Hupf had reported that the San Mateo county boundaries commission had approved the move, the council referred the annexation proposal to the city planning commission for its recommendations.

City officials indicated the next move must be taken by Bayshore residents who want annexation. The law requires that they publish a notice of intent to circulate a petition, asking formal annexation to Daly City.

When the council receives a copy of the notice and an affidavit, it may then approve or disapprove the circulation of the petition.

If enough Bayshore signatures are obtained, the council will set a hearing and election for the residents to vote on affiliation with Daly City, Hupf explained.

The proposed annexed area includes the Cow Palace.

In other action, a contract to codify the city's ordinance was given to Michie Legal Publication Inc.

Codification Planned

The Los Angeles firm, which has codified the ordinances of about 100 cities, will organize the city's laws into a more readable code.

Hupf explained that although the council has passed 575 ordinances since its inception, only about a hundred are in effect.

Among other things, the Michie firm will index and divide the ordinances into sections.

"This means a citizen could go to one place to find all the laws of the city," Hupf said.

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi asked the city manager to [illegible] a traffic analysis in Daly City.

DeBernardi said the council and a technical staff should be correctly informed about the problems that will be created by such projects as Mary's Help hospital and the Bayshore annexation.

DeBernardi is chairman of the transportation committee.

Other Action

In other action the council:

Proclaimed the week of February 24 San Mateo county Historical association week in Daly City.

Brisbane Annex Fought in Court

While Daly City appeared to have smooth sailing in annexation moves last week, Brisbane's annexation of industrial lands in Bayshore City appears to have hit choppy waters.

Superior Court Judge Frank W. Rose Thursday granted a hearing on a petition filed by attorney Thomas L. Bocci, retained by the Bayshore Sanitary District to fight Brisbane's annexation.

Bocci claimed in his petition that there are 12 or more residents of the area proposed to be annexed and that Brisbane could not annex the land under the uninhabited territory act.

Judge Rose denied Bocci's request for an order restraining further annexation proceedings by Brisbane, but said the hearing on his petition would most likely be scheduled before the next Brisbane council meeting Feb. 25.

Daly City is proceeding under the Inhabited Territory Act, which requires an election by Bayshore residents affected. The boundary commission approved Daly City's move Thursday, clearing the way for annexation.

Coast Plans Debris Law

Pacifica city councilmen moved to tighten the city's control over litterbugs at a study meeting last week when they received a draft of a proposed anti-litter ordinance requiring all property owners to clean up their vacant lots to avoid a city lien on the property.

The ordinance was prepared by City Attorney Conrad Reisch after a series of complaints from the Westview area of debris dumping in vacant lots and in rear yards.

The new law will allow the city to clean up lots and place a lien on property if a property owner fails to clear his land when ordered to do so by municipal authorities.

Also presented by Reisch was the draft of an ordinance that will make it mandatory for householders to subscribe to scavenger service.

The council was presented with a request from George McMahon,

Pacifica Fires Editor From City Board

Pacifica city councilmen last week fired two members of the city's personnel advisory board, including its chairman, the editor of a local weekly newspaper, on charges of "conflict of interest," touching off a political controversy which may continue to boil until the next municipal election more than a year away.

The firing of Lee Forster from the personnel board led to two immediate resignations from other boards and a series of charges and countercharges between the local weekly newspaper and the council.

Mrs. Peggy Drake, publisher of the paper who had been reappointed to an 18-member welfare referral advisory board at last night's stormy meeting, immedi-

THEY'LL BE COMMENDED

The Pacifica City Council will present letters of commendation to Lee Forster and Mrs. Elijah Gentry, both of whom were ousted from the city's Personnel Advisory committee last week.

Forster, editor of a weekly newspaper, was charged with a conflict of interest.

City officials say the letters are standard procedure—given to citizens who have ended a tour of duty on one of the city's unpaid commissions or committees.

Wanted: A Queen For 1963

The city of Pacifica has a "wanted" sign out.

"Wanted" is a 1963 Miss Pacifica.

A citywide search for this year's royalty is being conducted by the Pacifica Chamber of Commerce.

Applicants must be between the ages of 16 and 26.

They must maintain at least a C average if they are in high school or college.

As in the past, each contestant will be given a charm course. Included will be modeling, hair-styling, make-up and public speaking.

Contestants will be judged on the basis of appearance, personality, poise and talent.

Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Nita Buchanan at 446 Manor plaza in the Pacific Manor Shopping center.

A New Post Feature Begins

The Post today inaugurates a new column, Pacific Parade, written by News Editor Don Miller.

A newsman for the past five years, Miller took the editorial helm of The Post in early December.

Pacific Parade will be concerned, in the main, with the lighter side of the North County and Bay Area region.

Today's column, on page 13, is devoted to the forthcoming demise of San Francisco's baroque Fox theater.

Daly City Issues 33 Build Permits

Thirty-three building permits for construction estimated at $186,195, were issued during the past two weeks by the Daly City Building Inspector's office.

Included were permits for the demolition of ten houses by the State Division of Highways and the construction of a pedestrian overpass at Lake Merced boulevard by the Jefferson Elementary school district.

The overpass, costing approximately $39,000, was designed by Mario Caimpi, who also designed Oceana High school in Pacifica.

Permits were issued to:

Goodin Realty, 4990 Mission street, to repair home at 461 Hillside boulevard.

Blooms Fine Shoes, 21 Westlake court, to erect sign.

William R. Powell, 12 Seacliff avenue, to construct two bedrooms in basement.

Sunshine Properties incorporated, 2222 Nineteenth avenue, San Francisco, to construct houses at 138, 144, 150, 156, 162 and 168 Ardendale drive in Daly City.

Better Carpets incorporated, 6278 Mission street, to construct sign.

Skyline Cleaning company, 45 Skyline Plaza Shopping center, to construct sign.

William R. Cheyne, 271 St. Catherine drive, to construct recreation room in basement.

Don Brown, 307 Higate avenue, to construct rumpus room.

Gus Arvold, 134 Los Bano avenue, to build garage.

Andrew Eliopoulos, 57 Westpark avenue, to finish room.

Clarence A. Corriveau, 3 Oakridge drive, to construct all-purpose room.

Jack Bromley, 1480 South Mayfair, to construct playroom.

Dellbrook Properties, incorporated, 2222 Nineteenth avenue, San Francisco, to construct homes at 49 and 45 Southridge streets.

Mr. and Mrs. Rocco Picone, 69 Dorchester drive, to construct family room and bedroom.

Jack Salvato, 426 St. Francis boulevard, to add basement room in garage.

J. C. McTode, 114 Evergreen drive, to add aluminum siding to house.

State of California, to demolish houses at 2439 Junipero Serra boulevard, 280 and 284 Railroad avenue, Eighty-ninth and Railroad avenues, 313, 201 and 287 Niantic avenue, and 292, 290 and 288 Hillcrest drive.

Carol Folger Ends Stay

Carol Folger has ended a long hospital stay to convalesce in the home of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Robert Folger of 485 Griffin avenue, Pacifica.

Mrs. Folger was severely injured and her husband, DeWayne, killed November 18 in an auto accident on the Edgemar freeway.

Doctors first believed Mrs. Folger would have to remain in Peninsula hospital for nine months.

She underwent corrective surgery on broken knees, thighs and jaw. She is presently in a body cast.

Doctors have assured her that she will walk again in about five months.

owner of the Pacifica Cab company, for increased taxi rates. Pointing out that most taxi calls in Pacifica are for long runs and that cabs must return empty, McMahon asked that a 50-cent charge for the first mile be increased to 75 cents:

In other actions, councilmen:

Discussed the city's liability on two damage claims resulting from slides on valdez way during recent storms.

Held up a tentative map of Linda Mar 23 until it can be determined if replacement of a washed out bridge on Rosita road can be made part of subdivision improvements. The bridge was washed out during recent storms.

Received a report that the new American Letion hall will soon be moved to the Rockaway Beach area. Storms had delayed moving of the building.

Agreed that the city has no idea when the county will replace the long sought Sharp Park branch library because the county is now re-evaluating its entire library service.

Reviewed a proposed contract with a "duck" rescue vehicle.

Set up a series of eight special study meetings with various commissions and to review a state gas tax budget for the city for the coming year.

Agreed to review a safety committee recommendation that more stop signs be placed at a school crossing at Alicante and Banyon drives.

Planners to Meet Tonight

The Daly City Planning Commission meets at 8 tonight in the council chambers to consider use permits for four signs, a lot variance and a rezoning.

Gunnar Engdahl, 2636 Ocean avenue, San Francisco, is asking the commission to establish R-3 zoning on lots 41 through 46 on the north side of Eighty-eighth street near Sullivan avenue.

Thelma Abrahamson, 50 San Joaquin avenue, is asking for a reduction in lot area to 1625 square feet.

The planning commission will consider permits for signs at 2488 Junipero Serra boulevard, 6143 Mission street and the St. Francis Square shopping center.

The commission normally meets on Tuesday nights but the meeting was postponed to tonight because of Lincoln's Birthday.

School Unity Plan Reviewed

Walter Hinkle, a member of the San Mateo county committee studying school unification, spoke before the Pacifica Republican assembly last week. He listed some of the advantages and disadvantages of unification with a brief explanation of each point. A question period was held later.

Assembly chairman Al Lynch reported on the Republican Central committee convention, which he attended at the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco.

At the Republican assembly general meetings held on the first Friday of each month, issues of local concern will be discussed with guest speakers whenever possible, a spokesman for the Pacifica unit said.

Committee chairman for this year include Mrs. Roberta Posz, historian; Jack Gobel, program; and Emory Lebonville, publicity.

Sisterhood Plans Lunch

The Sisters of Temple Judea will hold a luncheon next Wednesday at the temple.

Guest speaker will be the Rev. John Washington, pastor of Pilgrim Congregational Community church in San Francisco. He will speak on: "To Join the Human Race."

A buffet lunch will be served. Cost is $1 per person.

tives were asked to return to their districts and draw up a proposal for presentation tomorrow night.

In other action last night, Jefferson elementary trustees authorized Daly City to proceed with the construction of a stairway from Alemany boulevard down to Westlake Park.

The stairway's cost is estimated at $2700 and will be borne by the school district.

Trustees also awarded a low bid to Modern Folding Doors for installation of a partition between two new classrooms at Colma school.

The firm bid $1795. District Superintendent Richard L. Foster recommended that installation of partitions between other new classrooms be held over to the next fiscal year. The board concurred.

The board also authorized Foster to investigate a program of giving free immunization for Asian flu to the district's teachers.

The board took the action after Noonan observed:

"To keep the teachers on the job is worth the nominal cost (of the program). I don't know who is more vulnerable to the flu than teachers who are in constant contact with children."

The board approved a recommendation from Foster that summer school begin July 1 instead of June 24.

Foster said the later starting date would save the district some $12,000 because of state aid considerations.

Passed resolutions of commendation to Boy Scouts Wayne M. Cloonan, David Lee, Joseph A. Fernekes, Kenneth Stettler, and James Quibell—all new Eagle scouts.

Passed resolutions of commendation to George Brenk, Richard Brewer, Robert Payne and George Pedroni for volunteer service in Daly City youth activities.

The men were recommended for the honor by their fellow coaches in various city athletic leagues for fifth through eighth grade youngsters.

Gave the city engineer authorization to enter an indemnification contract with the Southern Pacific railroad to place a water line under railroad tracks. The line will provide the proposed Mary's Help hospital with three sources of water.

Fire Destroys Wife's Clothes

Fire in a clothes closet destroyed an estimated $1000 worth of clothing at the home of Joseph Bevaresco at 368 Vista Grande avenue in Daly City early Saturday night.

Bevaresco is the president of the Daly City - Colma Junior Chamber of Commerce...

He said all of his wife's clothes, with the exception of a dress and the clothes she was wearing at the time, were lost in the fire.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started from a faulty light fixture in the closet. The fire also caused smoke damage throughout the house.

The Good Witch

WIZARDRY—The young lady with the bizarre headpiece is Sally Sherman Taylor who's wearing the costume of Glinda, the Good Witch of the south, in the old favorite, "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz." The fantasy will be presented by the San Francisco Players at Colma school February 22 and at Benjamin Franklin school February 23. The performances are sponsored by the Jefferson School District P-TA Co-ordinating committee. Tickets are available from P-TA organizations of the Jefferson district.

Four to Vie in Speech Contest

Four students from Jefferson and Westmoor high schools will be competing in the zone preliminaries of the Lions Club Speech contest next Wednesday.

Grand prize for the state-wide winner will be a $1500 scholarship, according to chairman Stanford Hannah.

The host — Daly City-Colma Lion's club will hear two students from each school speak on "Conformity, A Real Challenge to Me," at a special dinner meeting at 7 p.m. at the Hilton Inn, South San Francisco.

Jefferson advisor Rudy Tretten said four students at the school are working on their speeches. They are seniors Lois Donnal, Janice Keith and Michael Lima and junior Evelyn Morabe. The two finalists will be announced Friday.

Three students at Westmoor are competing for the right to represent the school, according to adviser Mary Holden. The students are seniors Cathy Adams and Steve Lerner and sophomore Kim Miller.

The zone winner qualifies to represent the Daly City-Colma club in the district finals, Hannah said. The speaker will compete against the winners of clubs in Brisbane, North Coast, South San Francisco and San Bruno.

A trophy will be given to the zone winner.

Toastmasters Plan Session

The Daly City Toastmasters club will hold a joint meeting with the morning Pacifica Toastmasters club at 7 a.m. tomorrow at the Westlake library.

The two clubs will share a program of speakers.

The Daly City Toastmasters currently are conducting a membership drive, president Edward Tomasello said. Anyone who is interested in developing his speaking ability is welcome to attend the regular Thursday morning meetings or to call him at PL 5-0850.

The Pacifica club meets at 7 Wednesday mornings at the Sea Bowl. Howard Hoops is the president.

Calvert Post Under Study

The city manager's office in Daly City is working on finding another position for Reginald Calvert, according to assistant to the city manager Willis Hawley.

Calvert, a maintenance carpenter for the city, was laid off when his job was eliminated because of cost factors.

The Daly City Municipal Employes Union had two hearings with the personnel board. The board recommended to the council that Calvert be offered another position.

The council referred the recommendation to the city manager at a meeting two weeks ago.

ately announced her resignation, as did Ralph Barkey, a circulation man with the paper, who quit the park, beach and recreation commission.

In announcing a series of appointments and reappointments to various commissions and the creation of a new drainage study committee last week, the council also did not reappoint another member of the personnel advisory committee, Mrs. E. D. Gentry, who had also sought reappointment.

In defending the council's unanimous action, Mayor George Mason pointed out that two other weekly newspapers are circulated in the city and said that Forster might use his privileged position to gain "inside information."

In a front page editorial the newspaper charged that there is no one more "vulnerable" than some councilmen to conflict of interest charges, especially Mason, "whose path is not always too straight down the middle of the road."

Forster claimed while it was decided he would not be reappointed at a "secret meeting" a week ago, he was not informed of the council's pending action until yesterday morning.

The meeting was also featured by the announcement of the resignation of Mrs. Margaret Barrett from the planning commission. She was an original member of the first planning commission shortly after the city's incorporation and a former commission vice chairman. She gave the press of personal business as her reason for quitting.

The local political pot was brought to an even hotter boil at the study meeting as councilmen discussed a proposed policy that would require all members of city commissions and advisory boards to submit their resignations before seeking elective office.

Five members of the new seven-member drainage committee were appointed last week. They are Earl Kabel, Dan Martin, Mrs. Ellen Boyden, Sohrab Alikahn and William Croman. One candidate, Kitty Bouly, refused a seat on the new board.

Named to the personnel board to replace Forster were Ralph Thompson and Mrs. Zoe Bauge. Ralph Brant was reappointed to this board.

Renamed to the welfare referral advisory board were the Rev. William Klover of the Holy Cross Lutheran church; Ernest Ribera, principal of Oceana High school; Mrs. Alberta Carlen, dean of girls at Terra Nova High school, and Mrs. Drake.

Reappointed to the planning commission was Sam Turpin.

He Isn't Dead

A Daly City man who disappeared from here over eight years ago and was declared legally dead, turned up alive last week in Jackson county, Colorado.

Leonard J. Sifford, who left Daly City in 1954 on what his wife, Kathleen, termed was a "brief vacation," was traced through his social security number to the lumber town after his wife had applied for death benefits.

San Joaquin County authorities reported that Sifford who was declared legally dead by Superior Court in 1961, had been found working as a lumberjack.

Mrs. Sifford and her three daughters, had since moved to Lathrop in San Joaquin county. In 1961, after he was declared legally dead, she applied for federal social security death benefits.

It was then that authorities discovered that Sifford's social security card was in use. San Joaquin county District Attorney Laurence Drivon was negotiating with Sifford's attorney over child support payments.

3000 Enroll For Evening Adult School

The Jefferson Adult Evening High School moved into high gear last week some 3000 persons enrolled in more than 125 classes.

"Enrollments will continue to be taken until classes reach full capacity" L. M. Martin, principal of the adult program, announced.

Class space is available at Terra Nova, Oceana, Westmoor and Jefferson High schools in academic subjects, Americanization classes, arts and crafts, business education, foreign languages, homemaking, industrial arts, physical education and many other special-interest classes.

Adults planning to take classes for high school credit should plan to be registered not later than tomorrow. Martin will be at Westmoor High school each night from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. for special counseling.

Tests Given

General educational development tests will be given to veterans over 21 years of age, starting Monday in Room 16 at Westmoor Adult school. Each test takes approximately two hours to complete.

Veterans scoring 35 or more on the tests will be given ten units of elective credit toward their high school diplomas. Five different tests will be given to complete the series. Certificates will be issued on completion.

Interested persons who would like to participate in a Saturday landscape painting class should call PL 5-1162 to register and receive additional information.

Also offered by appointment Saturdays are several driver training classes. The registration fee for five Saturday lessons is $15.

"Since You Asked Me..."

Do you think military training should be compulsory?

Mary Cusudo, 280 Fairway drive, Daly City: "Yes, the stronger nation is the one that will survive. If we don't fight the Russians it will be the Chinese. I think we should be ready."

Mrs. R. T. Pettibone, 505 Eighty-seventh street, Broadmoor: "No. It isn't necessary. I don't think there will be another war. They (the Communists) know they're going to get hurt just as much as we would. We can get ready fast enough."

Mrs. L. B. Roberto, 300 Palmcrest street, Daly City: "I think the next war will be fought with buttons and we don't need as many men. I think the guys that enlist would be enough. They teach them trades like electronics, so I think we would do all right."

M. R. Curran, 37 Mateo avenue, Daly City: "Yes. We should be ready for a war. The reason World War II lasted so long was because we spent so much time winning back what we lost because we weren't ready."

James Broughton, 122 Bruno avenue, Daly City: "Yes, Cuba should have taught us a lesson. The Communists understand only one thing—power. They backed down when Kennedy got tough. We have to stay tough and so we should have military training for everybody."

Gene Brock, 150 Coronado avenue, Daly City: "The army isn't attractive enough for guys to join. The government has to draft them into it."

Erosion Nibbles Hard at Backyards and Homes

The Creek Did This . . .

EROSION—Mrs. Jess Gonzales and her son, Robert inspect what's left of their backyard at 1523 Rosita road in Pacifica. San Pedro creek erosion has cut away 30 feet of the backyard. Erosion was accelerated during recent storms in the Pacifica area. (Post-Times photo)

Creek Eats Away Linda Mar Patios

By LOIS McNALLY

Charming and picturesque San Pedro creek winds through the Linda Mar section of Pacifica, creating some of the most scenic and rustic backyards seen in North San Mateo county.

But erosion, so gradual that many creekside property owners are still unaware of its danger, is in some places turning this homeowners' delight into a headache.

As more homes are built in the Linda Mar valley, more water flows down San Pedro creek to tear away at its banks. Frequently after a heavy rainstorm, property owners find that portions of their backyards have slid into the creek.

Changes Course

Six years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Gonzales of 1523 Rosita road had a backyard terraced down to the creek. The stream changed its course and started cutting away at their bank.

Now the backyard, once about 15 feet deep, is gone—claimed by the creek—and the erosion is now at the edge of a small patio, only six feet from the rear of the Gonzales house.

Mrs. Gonzales says she has been told that any further erosion will menace the foundations of the house. She added it will take over one thousand square yards of fill and probably a concrete retaining wall to restore and protect the property.

The Gonzales' erosion is the worst yet encountered along San Pedro creek. Many homeowners lost parts of their creek banks, trees and in some cases, back fences either in last week's storm or a near typhoon last October.

Typical of these homeowners are Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wallace of 836 Dell road who lost an estimated 100 tons of soil from their creek bank during the recent storm. They lost their back fence and erosion cut three feet into the lawn and flower garden.

More erosion was reported this week in backyards of homes along Dell road, Bower road, near Adobe drive and on the north side of the creek between Peralta road and the Coast highway.

A quiet and peaceful little stream in the summertime, San Pedro creek is a favorite fishing spot for Linda Mar Youngsters. When the rains come, however, it becomes a torrent of raging water.

The problem of erosion is made worse by Linda Mar residents who think the deep creek is ideal for dumping. Mattresses, bedsprings, doors and the tumbler from a dryer have been observed floating down the creek.

When this debris gets caught in a patch of heavy undergrowth, water backs up and when it finally tears loose, brings bank and vegetation with it.

Pacific Public Works Director Paul Rushing says an extensive job of clearing overgrowth and debris from the channel by city crews this winter probably prevented further erosion two weeks ago.

He added that San Pedro creek, which used to be a quiet little stream flowing through farmlands from the mountains to the sea, was never meant to serve as a major drainage channel for a growing subdivision.

City Engineer Alfred Roberts says erosion has been spotty along the creek but is a continuing problem and will gradually get worse.

What San Pedro creek will need eventually, he says, is a half million dollar drainage improvement project. Plans for such an undertaking may well come out of the new city-wide drainage study committee, appointed last week by the Pacific City Council.

Its formation was sparked by Milagra creek property owners in Pacific Manor who have been pressing for city action on erosion.

The committee will study the city's north south drainage facilities and may recommend that a bond issue be proposed for necessary improvements.

Members Announced

Committee members announced by Mayor George Mason last week include: Sohrab Alikhan, Earl Kable, Royce Ackerman, William Croman, Dan Martin and Mrs. James Boyden.

San Pedro creek is too large a channel to pipe, says Roberts, but it needs straightening, enlarging and concrete lining in some problem areas to halt erosion.

Roberts points out that the city has a drainage easement along the creek through most of the developed portions of the creek land.

The city's only responsibility for this easement is to maintain the flow of water, he says. The city can not take the responsibility for stabilizing embankments since this would be work on private property.

"All we can do with the manpower and money we have is yearly maintenance work clearing debris and trash. It is the owners' responsibility to protect their property," he adds.

When planning any construction work to halt erosion, a property owner should first obtain an encroachment permit from the city engineering department. This is to ensure that any construction will not interfere with the free flow of water, he explains.

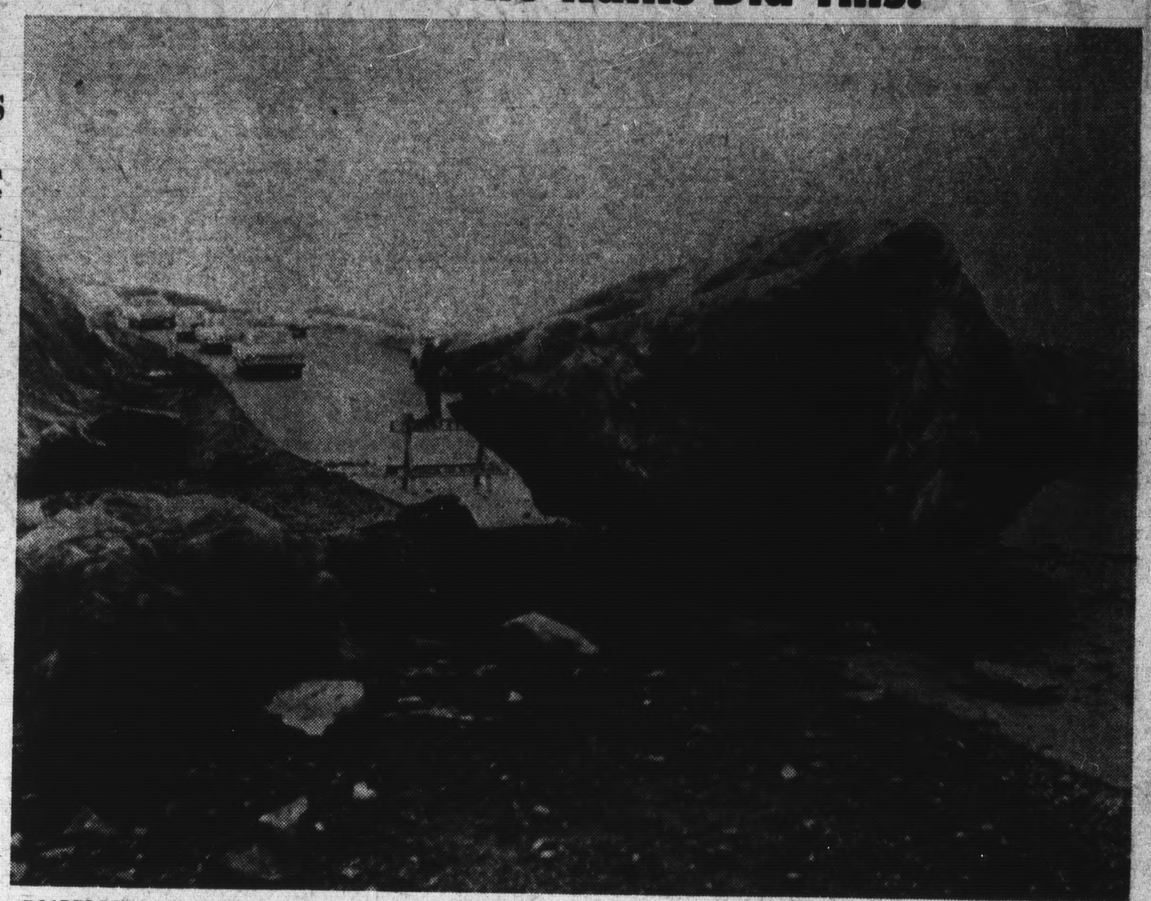

Usual methods of shoring up creek banks include use of sacks of concrete, broken concrete or rock. Erection of timber supports is usually discouraged, Roberts says, because they deteriorate, fall into the channel and block the water.

Planting can help cases of minor erosion, Roberts advises. He says ice plant is not suitable because it is too heavy with shallow roots that tear out easily.

Recommended are ivy, berry plants, heavy grasses and willows that should be chopped down every year.

If the natural vegetation is preserved, the property owner should keep it trimmed regularly to preserve the natural flow of water, Roberts concludes.

And the Rains Did This!

ROADBLOCK—A huge 20-ton boulder all but completely blocks the Coast Highway Sunday at Devil's Slide. The boulder, loosened by heavy rains two weeks ago, missed striking any autos. Officials said the giant rock would have flattened at least two cars had it fallen on them. Traffic was re-routed around the boulder until it could be shoved aside. (Post-Times photo)

Kitchen Aide Said Burglar

A 37-year-old kitchen helper, found by South San Francisco police hiding in the bushes near his wife's home at 379 C street Sunday night has admitted 15 burglaries, police reported today.

Arrested after officers, acting on undisclosed information, surrounded his wife's home over the weekend, was Richard M. Paulino, who officers said has been living in various San Francisco hotels recently.

According to Detective Sal Rosano, Paulino admitted burglarizing 15 local business establishments, gaining entry by smashing windows. He took mostly merchandise to pawn in San Francisco, Rosano reported.

IN THIS week's column, I am going to discuss someone with perfect objectivity. I am able to make this statement for three reasons.

1) We are both of Italian descent.
2) We are both native San Franciscans.
3) I have never met the gentleman, so therefore, can look at him through the eyes of the ordinary sports fan who also knows him only by what he reads in the newspaper.

So, because I am usually in accord with native-born San Franciscans of Italian extraction, and, assuming that newspapers do not lie, I feel I am perfectly objective when I say that Ken Venturi is beginning to disgust me.

Krying Kenny recently went through another hand-wringing solo when he quit the Palm Springs Golf classic because, according to the San Francisco Examiner, he was disgusted with other members of his group.

Venturi was quoted as saying: "How in heck can you play in a tournament when guys are walking across your line . . ."

There followed, said The Examiner, "some choice unprintable words . . . about the staging of the tournament, which has 384 amateurs as contestants."

The same newspaper also noted that at the time Venturi quit, he was at the tag-end of a bad round, which had seen him bogey five straight holes.

★ ★ ★

SEVERAL YEARS AGO, when he was still an amateur, Krying Kenny made his national weeping debut when, after blowing an eight stroke lead in the Master's to Jackie Burke on the last round, he blamed his misfortune on everythnig but his bad golf. If I remember correctly, there were also a few unmentionable words involved in that incident.

During the Crosby, Venturi apparently tried to "have the badge" of a course cop when the policeman, on orders, wouldn't allow Venturi on the course when Venturi couldn't produce a pass he had inadvertently left in his room.

"Do you know who I am," cried Kenny.
"No," said the policeman.

So like any mature man, Venturi, rather than attempt to kill the officer's diligence with kindness, called him — said the policeman later — some unmentionable names, sneaked on the course, told his mother on the policeman, and indicated that it was inconceivable that anybody wouldn't know Ken Venturi, and that the bad old policeman was trying to cause him trouble.

Maybe the policeman did know Venturi and didn't want to admit it.

★ ★ ★

NOT SINCE Johnny Antonelli (another paisan, I'm sorry to admit) has a San Franciscan done as much to attach the "cry baby" tag to the city, but at least Antonelli wasn't a native and did have the courtesy to leave the city.

It's ironic that the world's greatest golfer, Arnold Palmer, is also considered by most of his professional brethren as well as fans to be one of the nicest guys in golf, and even more ironic that a transplanted Negro, Willie Mays, can win "nice guy" awards, while Ken Venturi, San Francisco native, has rarely been accused of anything so mundane.

Some say that Ken Venturi is a fat head. It isn't quite that simple. He's merely a frustrated boy wonder who, in approaching his middle 30's, is no longer a boy, and who, judging from his recent golf showings, is also no longer a wonder.

Physically, Venturi could be one of golfing's greats. Emotionally, he doesn't belong on a pee-wee golf course. Unfortunately, it now appears that he will be one of those athletes who grows old waiting for his potential to reach him, rather than going out and reaching his own potential.

Perhaps Venturi's real trouble is that he isn't and never has been a hungry athlete. He was always a spoiled child, I understand, and has never had to worry about income. I recently read where he makes a very comfortable salary just by indorsing and occasionally modeling shirts or sweaters for a large national concern.

★ ★ ★

WHATEVER Venturi's problems, I wish he'd prove me wrong. I've always, until recently, rooted for him, have always thought he had the shots to be King. Perhaps this column has done an injustice to Venturi. As I have admitted, I have never met the man. He may be the greatest guy in the world. As I also mentioned, however, I have merely reflected impressions that many sports fans must have by now acquired about Venturi.

If Ken Venturi reads this, I hope he takes the trouble to prove me wrong. I hope he proves it so well to me that I have to offer him equal space or print a retraction, calling him the most lovable person on earth.

But if what the newspapers have indicated about Venturi is true, then I say that if Ken Venturi can't play a man's game like a man, then he should permanently go into modeling clothes, where the competition isn't too tough.

Here's Your Chance to be An Umpire

Itching to get out on the baseball diamond and call some of those close plays at home plate yourself?

Your opportunity to do so is afforded again this year by the Daly City Recreation department.

The department needs umpires for midget and junior leagues.

Instruction in umpiring is being given Monday nights, starting at 7, in Room 14 of Westmoor High school. Tom Glover, a high school teacher who has played and umpired, is the instructor.

The class, sponsored by the Jefferson Union High School District Adult division, is open to coaches, managers and baseball fans as well as those residents interested in umpiring.

Weiner Takes Yo-Yo Crown

The finals of the Daly City Yo Yo championship were held Saturday at the War Memorial Community center.

Twelve playground champions competed on the stage of the War Memorial gymnasium for the honor of representing Daly City in area finals.

Jerry Weiner of 1238 Southgate avenue, Daly City, compiled a total score of 90 points and was declared city champion.

Behind Jerry with 80 points was Arthur Hermosillo from Marchbanks Park. Third place went to Tony Guzzo, Colma school champion.

Here are results of the contest: Weiner, 90; Hermosillo, 80; Guzzo, 75; Murray Ogin 75 (run-off with Guzzo winning); Don Calough 70; Mike Furtch 70; Michael Oliver 70; John Handley 65; Paul Chernock 60; Paul Carruba 50; Bob Estrada 30 and Julian Ogin 15.

SSF, Rams, Sharks Post Wins

HOLD 2ND PLACE

Warriors Top Jeff, 47-27

By RON BATES

The South San Francisco Warriors downed the Jefferson Indians, 47-27, Friday night to stay close on the heels of the league-leading Westmoor Rams.

The win gave South City a 4-1 league record and sole possession of second place in the North Peninsula league race. Jefferson is third.

The Warriors used an aggressive defense and the deadeye accuracy of Dave Parenti to spell defeat for the visitors from Daly City. Parenti led both clubs with 19 points.

The Indians couldn't find the mark in the first half, netting only three baskets in 19 tries for a 16 per cent shooting mark.

Jefferscn walked off the court at halftime with only seven points to the Warriors' 20.

"It was a fine defensive effort by the team during the first half that put us in the driver's seat for the rest of the game," said South San Francisco coach Joe Schroeder.

The Indians came to life in the second half but the Warriors matched baskets and then went on to strengthen their half-time lead.

South San Francisco picked up 12 points on the free throw line when the desperate Indians began a full-court press in the second half.

Jefferson coach Mike Orlich praised the hustling efforts of Indians Larry Jones and Larry Keeling but said his team did not play up to its usual ability.

Steve Willis netted 12 for the losers.

Oceana Wins First, Beats Colts, 53-32

The Oceana Sharks walloped the El Camino Colts last Friday night, 53-32, to vacate the cellar spot in the North Peninsula league basketball race.

Both teams went into the fray with a winless record.

With Shark center Larry Kinkade showing the way in the field goal department and playmaker Dave Brazealle at the free throw line, Oceana ran up an easy victory.

Kinkade collected six field goals and two free throws for 14 points while Brazealle had nine free throws and three field goals for 15 points to lead both teams in scoring.

The first half of the contest was a fairly close affair before the Sharks took a 17-11 halftime lead.

A full-court press by the Colts in the third quarter proved ineffective as the Sharks worked the ball well for 13 points to El Camin's seven in this period.

Three Colts left the game because of fouls and the Sharks took advantage of the charity tosses to build their lead.

The Sharks reaped a bonanza in the last quarter scoring 23 points to the Colts 14.

Oceana Coach Rich Warne said he was pleased with the performance of his charges. "They worked the ball well and didn't panic when the Colts pressed them," he said.

Oceana takes on the league-leading Westmoor Rams Friday while El Camino battles cross-city rival South San Francisco.

Rams Down Tigers for 5th Victory

The Westmoor Rams remained king of the mountain in the North Peninsula basketball race Friday night by downing a tenacious Terra Nova team, 51-44.

The win kept Westmoor's league record unblemished at 5-0.

Ram center John Kelly hit 19 points in leading the Rams to victory.

The Tigers startled Westmoor by taking a 10-6 lead in the first quarter. The Rams bounced back with a 16-point output in the second stanza to hold a slim 22-21 lead at halftime.

The teams traded baskets throughout the third period and the Rams went into the last quarter three points ahead at 34-31.

The superior height of Westmoor, however, proved the deciding factor as the Rams pulled away to win.

The Tigers' Dave Lieullen bagged 16 points in a losing effort. He and Kelly were the only players to hit double figures.

The hot Westmoor B team also continued its winning ways, walloping Terra Nova 57-27.

Bulldogs Stay In Race, Down Chabot, 66-53

By FRED BAER
Times Correspondent

It's still anybody's choice as to who will win the basketball title in the new Golden Gate conference.

Six of the eight league teams remain in serious contention following last week's action — which opened second round play.

While College of San Mateo was haphazardly downing winless Chabot, 66-53, conference leader City College of San Francisco suffered its second league loss—to San Jose, 69-59—and Diablo Valley fell out of a second place tie with Oakland by dropping a 62-57 decision to the Thunderbirds. Foothill evened its record a 4-4 by edging Contra Costa, 55-52.

New Chabot is the only league member who can be assured of the underdog role in every league contest. However the undermanned Gladiators, 1-15 overall and 0-8 in GGC play, managed to give San Mateo a few worries last Friday. Chabot stayed within range of CSM throughout the contest and closed to within four points of San Mateo at 50-46 with 6:15 remaining in the game.

Consecutive jump shots by Bulldog forward John Carmichael put the Mateans out of danger with five minutes left. Hot shot Gladiator guard John Garcia then popped in his eighteenth point of the night on a jumper before the Bulldogs blitzed for eight straight points.

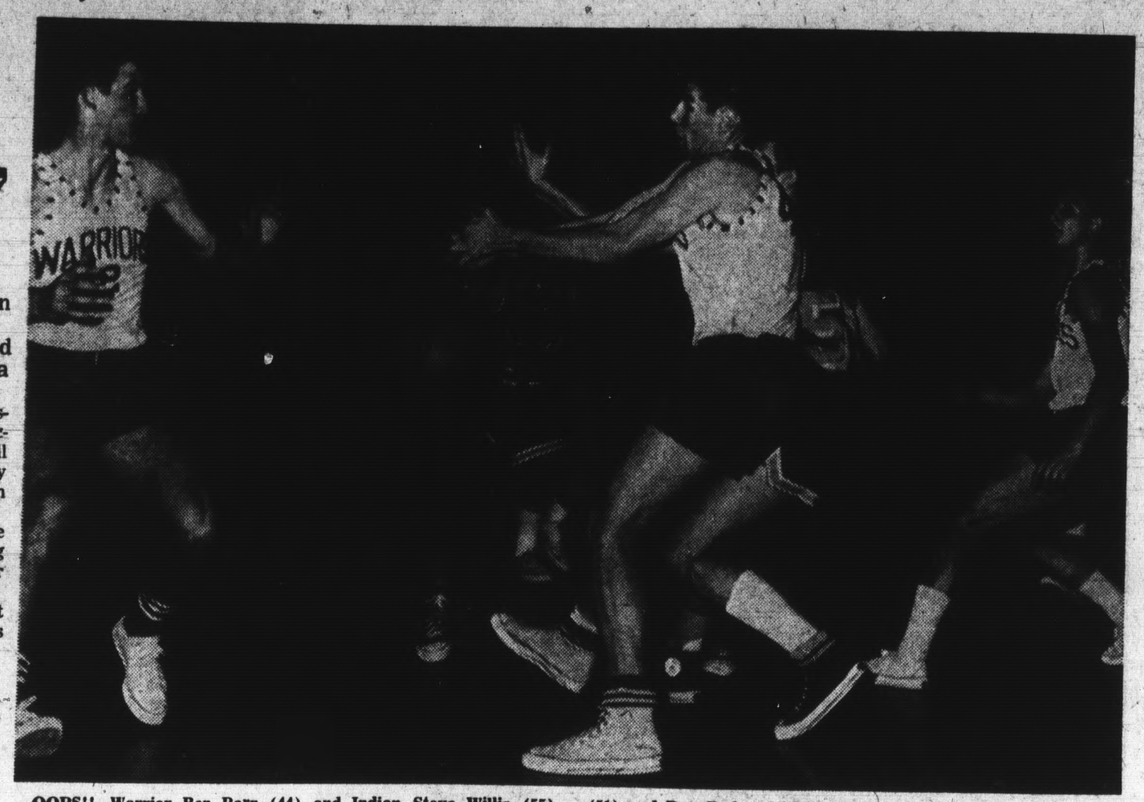

Rain Halts Dimes Game

The weatherman played one of his meaner tricks of the young year over the weekend when he sent down a deluge of rain that completely washed out Sunday's March of Dimes major - minor league benefit baseball game at Fitzgerald field in San Mateo.

The game, Northern California's largest charity exhibition baseball game, was cancalled following Saturday night's storm and will not be rescheduled.

Such major league stars as Willie Mays, Willie McCovey, Jim Davenport and Jim Fregosi were left sitting at home, along with the many fans who contributed the dollar donation.

For the players there will be no compensation. However, James Kehoe, San Mateo postmaster and Dimes' sports chairman, reports that there will be a prize-contest for all ticket holders next Saturday morning at Darcy's Sporting Goods store, 200 Second avenue.

OOPS!!—Warrior Ron Parr (44) and Indian Steve Willis (55) struggle for the ball in last Friday's action in South San Francisco. Jefferson lost 47-27. Looking on are Warriors' Larry Cervelli (12) and Rich Mozzini (right) and Indians' Larry Jones (51) and Dan Boden (right). The win kept South San Francisco in second place behind the Westmoor Rams who won their fifth straight league game against Terra Nova, 51-44.

Parenti Tops NPL Scoring At Midpoint

South San Francisco's Dave Parenti leads the North Peninsula league in scoring as the teams hit the halfway mark in league play last Friday.

Half of Parenti's 38-basket output came in the Warrior's game with Oceana two weeks ago. The Warrior ace hit 19 baskets and two free throws for a record-setting 40 points.

Westmoor's John Kelly stayed hot on the heels of Parenti with 19 points against Terra Nova Friday to bring his league total to 85.

The league-leading Rams had three players in the top five scorers. Steve Schmuck and Bill Broughton have 55 and 54 points, respectively, for fourth and fifth place.

Cellar-dwelling El Camino has the third place scorer in Hal Westmoreland who has 70.

Oceana's Dave Brazealle and South San Francisco's Bob Szehner have been the league dead-eyes at the free throw line with 18 each.

The South San Francisco Warriors lead in the offensive statistics with 283 points and trail Jefferson by one point in defense with 211. Jefferson has held their opponents to 210 points.

Westmoor trails South City by five points in offense with a 278 output.

RECREATION LEAGUES

Vikings, Gaels Stay Unbeaten

Three teams maintained their unbeaten status last week in basketball leagues sponsored by the Daly City Recreation department.

The OLM Gaels breezed to their fourth win in the Fifth Grade league, the PAL Vikings swept to their fifth victory in the Sixth Grade loop and the New Pisa Reds drew a bye to keep their record at 5-0 in the Eighth Grade league.

All three unbeaten teams hold sole possession of first place in their leagues.

The Gaels humbled the OLPH Bumble Bees, 40-2, while the PAL Eagles downed the Holy Angel's Lions, 34-12. Larry Belfrage led the Eagles with 11 points.

OLM Dons Win

In other Fifth Grade action, the PAL Jaguars bowed to the OLM Dons in a low-scoring contest, 17-7.

The Vikings remaining on top of the Sixth Grade league by turning back the PAL Warriors, 35-24. The Warriors led early in the contest but a 10-point surge by Wayne Walorinta boosted the Vikings to victory.

In a battle for second place, the OLM Hawks cut down the Sherith Israel Knights, 38 - 30. Steve Roche bagged 16 points for the winners.

The BYA Bender Roofing Cats handed the OLPH Hilltoppers a 38-7 setback as Abe Shaffer again starred for the Cats with 11 points.

In other Sixth Grade action, the PAL Jets upset the Holy Angels Colts, 28-25. Tom Scott of the losers and Ron Papers of the winners both scored 12 points to pace two clubs.

Play in the Seventh Grade league was marked by a three-way struggle for first place. Three clubs are tied for the top spot—the BYA Aero Motors, the PAL Bears and the New Pisa Blues.

Aero Motors came from behind to dump the BYA Hotshots, 33-22. The winners held the Hotshots to only eight points in the second half.

The Bears, led by Grady Proctor's 13 points, ran by the OLPH Golds, 46-14.

The New Pisa Blues handed the OLM Angels their second defeat of the season as Kollin Tong of the Blues collected 18 points.

In other Seventh Grade action, the Ben Franklin White Falcons nailed the PAL Wildcats, 27-12, and the MHR Chiefs walloped the BYA Matadors, 33-18.

Davis Stars

In the Eighth Grade loop, Jim Davis led the loop's scoring by posting 25 points in the OLM Saints' 52-47 victory over the PAL Tigers.

The PAL Big Warriors downed their arch rivals, the PAL Lakers, 42-31. Matt De Bernardi led the way with 20 points.

SERRA BOWL

THE LATEST attraction for the ladies is a Blue Monday Handicap Doubles at 1:15 p.m. each week. There is no minimum or maximum average and there will be one prize for every four enrants. In addition, there will be mystery prizes each week. Advance registration is not necessary.

★ ★ ★

Lee Rentschler took bowler of the week honors for the daytime ladies as she led the St. Emydius Mothers' Guild league with a big 205 game and 523 series. Mary Dudley took second place in the league with a 202 game while June Mugge converted the 4-7-10 split.

Top roller in the Canco league last week was Al Mort with a 210 game and 570 series.

John Ford of Butcher and Tiedje missed the 600 club by ten pins as he led the Sunshine Handicap with a 206 game and 590 series while Lo Robbins led the ladies with a 189 game and 485 series.

★ ★ ★

AS THE WESTLAKE Handicap Doubles entered the third week, A. C. Nettle and William Finck maintained their hold on first place with a 1699 total although Joni Lee and Bob Esola moved into second place with 1661.

In the optional singles, Art Krause took over first place with 691 while Finck's 673 gave him temporary possession of second place. The tournament runs until March 3 with more than $3000 in guaranteed prizes. Bowlers may compete any time lanes are available.

Patti Sayre of the San Jose Bowling Supply team shot a 202 game and 525 series to lead the Evening Stars while the other leading lady Monday evening was Arlene Steinberg in the Starliters league with 174 and 475.

★ ★ ★

Tony Torrise was the Wonder Man in the 805 Scratch league as he shot a big 205 game and 568 series.

Leading the B'nai B'rith league last week was Mannie Orchid with a 211 game and 563 series.

In the A-1 Nursery league, Flo Dillon rolled an almost perfect 192 game while Ruth Keefe took top series honors with 514.

Nancy Kramer's 200 game and 477 series led the YWCA league last week but the highlight of the day was her six consecutive strikes.

Sea Bowl

THE LADIES have not disappointed anyone. Last week end at Sea Bowl saw some of the most colorful teams in the northern California area competing in the San Francisco Women's Bowling association tournament. Scores ran high for both teams and individuals as you will see in the story to follow. However, it is the behind the scenes arranging that makes any event such as this a successful event. Sea Bowl wishes to thank personally these people for making the tournament a success: Betty Lester, Virginia Bunner, Bertha Anderson, Lory Adler, "Mom," and Estelle Hazelwood. We regret that the lack of space will not permit mentioning all those who worked for the success of this event.

Thompkins and Co., a team comprised of Eleanor Dragovich, Betty Flesh, Edith Kuhnle, Joanne Polley and Irene Hoyle won the tournament on scratch games of 888 - 919 - and 944. In second spot with 806 - 882 - and 911 was the Bay Area Five. Placing third and fourth were the Hopeful Five and My Pet Market. The Booster division teams finishing one-two-three were National Trophies, The Nameless Five, and Barbara's Salon of Beauty.

Mats Lum, with a nice 211—603 took home high series honors for this tournament. The high game honor went to Cecelia Schanze with 254. She was closely followed by Dottie Tener—242, and Tee Rolling—234. Gari Snyder, consistently above her average, shot a triplicate 160.

This weekend, the tournament moves to another site to continue with singles and doubles events. These companion events will be staged in the Park Bowl in San Francisco.

THE LEAGUE Hit Parade this week shows these leaders: Sea Bowlerettes: Lois Shaff 178—492, and Mary Sloane 181—460. The Yawners: Norma Hurt 195—475 and Wilma Henshaw 157—423. The Sea Mariners: Clara Meadows 198—495 and Marie Messer 157—463. The Aquanots: Wilma Joice 181—512 and M. Keen 177—466. The Alley Holics: Dot Butler 177—477 and Barbara Paquette 174—476. Neptunes Daughters: Carole Jorgensen 188—479 and Donna Hughes 178—478. The Pacifica Federated Women: Dolores Logan 158—424 and Stephanie Cain 181—423. Flamingos: Myrtle Keoster 145—405 and Anita Donelan 142—405. Keglerettes: Ann Klein 177—487 and LaVonne Ledesma 206—486. Chix and Hix: Bob Branston 200—525 and Helen Kettleman, 137—394.

PENINSULA TRAVELING LEAGUE—Madelyn Burley 177—502, Pat Devilbess 188—499, Dennis Logie 222—631, and Antonio Olivas 256—546. The Sleepers: Jim Buerke 208—572; Dean Fuller 213—558, Addie Hoyer 163—451 and Irene Fuller 162—438. Pacifica Travelers: Ev Jones 221—570, John Lew (Billy The Kid) 199—555, and Lee Nerli 203—464. The unsinkables (Boat Club): Harold Knudsen 183—513, and Joan Garnett 164—460. Ladies 540: Eleanor Payne 170—485, Margo Jones 192—438 and Marty Mannina 171—438.

Brunswick Traveling League: Varena Helbing 186—496, Roz Cavanaugh 161—471, J. Gerboni 223—578, and Norm St. Pierre 202—561. Beachcombers: Chuck Pierce 202—567, Sam Fox 219—526, and Audrey Zeller 197—533, to go 100 over her average. Wednesday Men's Handicap: Merrie Bieser 189—526, Harry Narducci 187—516, and Sherman (Tank) Taylor 177—514. Merchants Handicap: Bill Jones 195—527, Tony Martini 180—536, and David Foulke 212—525.

Ray Alhona led Pioneer Apartments on the road to recovery in the 825 Scratch with a nice 254—648 series. Unfortunately, his team lost one game, and was in second spot by one-half a game to Oceana HI-FI and TV. Other goodies in the league were: Bob West 228—648, and Roger Luhrs 222—584.

During the coming weeks until March 2, we expect a flurry of entries in the Men's Bowling Proprietors of America association team event at Sea Bowl. If your team has not shot in this tourney, please make plans to do so. Last year, a team with a 706 average won the top spot in the final roll-off.

Serra Bowl

ON THE BOWLING news beat, the list of high scores in a long one this week at Serra Bowl. In the weekly Metro Masters match, the Serra Bowl team was defeated by the Bel Mateo Bowl. The 2-1 victory was led by Fuzzy Shimada's 247—621 and Ed Nagel's 222—610 shooting. Phil Wallace led the losers with a 599 series on a 256 high game.

The South San Francisco Bruins swept over the San Francisco bunch in the Native Sons league. The three-game win was paced by Bob Menzies who smashed a big 253—560 series.

Frank Rossio tossed a mighty 223-245-167 series to tally 635 as his Federal Reserve team smashed the Hibernia Bank by winning all three games in the Thursday night Bankers loop.

In 806 Scratch action, Frank Molone blasted the wood to splinters on lanes 33 and 34, putting together games of 255-201-209 for a terrific 665 threesome as his Rink-A-Tink team was loosing two out of three games to the Aetna Roofers, paced by Don Meadows' 200—558 series.

Ward Potthoff, a 172 averager in the 700 Handicap league found the range last week and toppled a tremendous 246—577 and led his Q.F.I. group to a 2-1 win over the Daly City Service team.

JOHNSON'S GROCERY took two out of three games from Eakin & Eakin in 828 Scratch competition, in spite of Wade Yancy's towering 246—600 series for the losers.

In the Portola Dad's league, Bill Cardin whacked out a fine 241 for Monterey Floors as they shot down the White Hunters in a 2-1 win. Bill's 534 was high score in that action.

On Serra lanes, the ladies also show to good advantage every night. Midge Nieto blasted 205-535 in the Serra Starters and in the Monday evening Pots & Pans league, Kim Furuya led the gals with a sharp 201—539 series, followed closely by Mats Lym with a fine 200—534 total.

CSM Coach Optimistic About Club

Losing nine lettermen from a championship baseball club can be a problem for any coach but College of San Mateo's John Noce is optimistic about the Bulldogs' chances this season.

Sophomore mentor Noce has four front-liners and two reserves back from the 1962 Big Eight titlists and only the infield of the current club is still unproven.

Pete Cocconi, a sophomore, heads a large pitching staff. Newcomers Forrest Willis of Woodside and Gene Hessler of South San Francisco back up the former Serra High school flash.

Outfielder Phil Booker and John Morris will split their time between the field and the mound.

Backing up the first five are Volney Julianel, a control artist and relief specialist from Carlmont and Jefferson's Don Staff who will be making a comeback after a two-year lay-off.

Cocconi relied on excellent control and a good assortment of pitches to post a perfect earned run average in league play last season, earning second team all-Big Eight honors.

Hessler and Morris pitched South City to a fine season while Willis and Booker, of San Carlos, received all-SPAL mention.

Noce rates this year's staff as more than adequate although not blessed with the talent of 1962 when Rich Koeper (10-2) and Barry Krohn (7-2) helped Cocconi (7-2) to a 2.71 team ERA.

Catchers Mickey Corso and Jerry Ellsworth give the Bulldogs exactly the same staff as last year—with an added season of experience.

In Corso, coach Noce feels he may have the best player in the new Golden Gate conference. The mighty mite from South City captained last season's club while leading the team in homers, batting and stolen bases.

Ellsworth, a husky sophomore from Carlmont, is a team player and was invaluable as third base coach last year. He swings from either side of the plate.

'The Cobra' at Oakland Show

The 15th Annual Grand National Roadster Show, to open at the Oakland Exposition Building, Friday, has nearly 150 entries vying for the $10,000 worth of awards.

The latest entry is "The Cobra", a production model sports car created by internationally known designer Carroll Shelby.

The auto, rated in the 175 m.p.h. class, is powered by a 260 cubic inch Challenger V-8 engine which sets in an English sports car body.

Also in the show is a 40-inch street sports coupe, valued at $8000, which was built by Bob McNulty of Hayward. The coup features a hand-built front-end, with the rear half adapted from an Astra, and a reworked Thunderbird engine.

Entries will vie in 28 classes for the prizes, which includes a $5000, nine-foot trophy.

CSM Matmen Win Again

Two more matches stand between College of San Mateo wrestling team and a perfect dual meet season.

The Bulldog matmen will face Oakland City college today and close out their season with their toughest opposition for the championship, Diablo Valley, next Friday.

Coach Herb Hudson's grapplers scored their eighth consecutive victory without a loss last week when they downed Foothill, 19-11. Walt Wenger's pin in the heavyweight division was one of the six matches won the Bulldogs yesterday. He pinned Jim Garza in 2:20 of the opening period. All other matches were won on decisions.

CSM 19, Foothill 11

123—Gary Shouse (CSM) dec. George Yano (F) 6-2; 130—Ray Daniels (F) dec. Dick Hill (CSM) 4-0; 137—Mike Ruiz (CSM) dec. Paul Twitchell (F) 8-3; 147—Si Lucas (F) dec. Al Hughes (CSM) 11-2; 157—Jim Andrews (F) dec. Dennis Reichardt (CSM) 11-5; 167—Tim Green (CSM) and George Hanson (F) tied 11-11; 177—Jerry Schiffman (CSM) dec. Bill Buckenback (F) 2-1; 191—Bill Fife (CSM) dec. Bob Seymour (F) 7-0; Heavyweight — Wat Wenger (CSM) pinned Jim Garza (F) in 2:20 of first period.

Chess Club to Host Tourney

The Westlake Chess club will host the St. Francis Chess club of San Francisco in tournament play Tuesday.

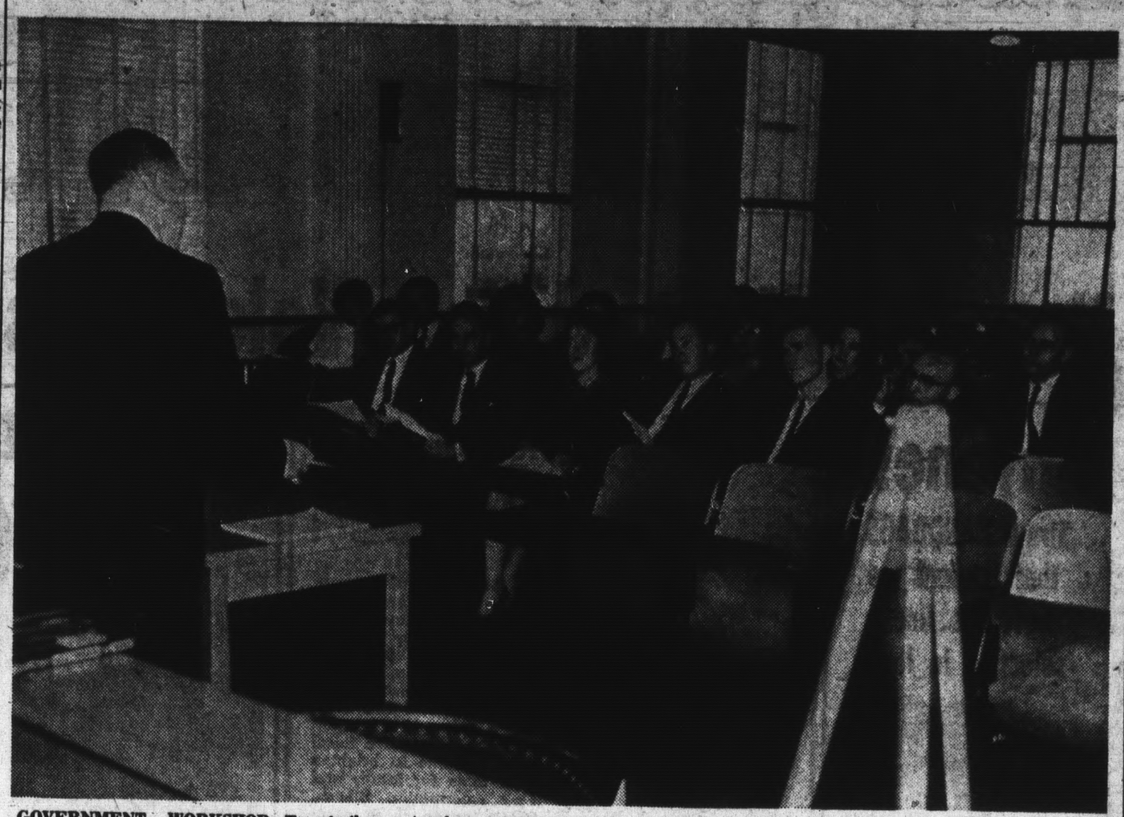

Play will start at 8 p.m. in the War Memorial Community center, 144 Hillside boulevard. This meeting will be the third for the Westlake Chess club in the El Camino Real league.

Clubs competing in this league are: the Kolty club, San Francisco; Lasker club, Mill Valley; Murphy club, San Quentin; Nimzonitch club, San Bruno, San Francisco State College club, San Francisco; Springers club, San Bruno; St. Francis club, San Francisco, and the Westlake club, Daly City.

Club meets are scheduled approximately every two weeks until the end of May.

The Westlake Chess club meets at 8 p.m. every Tuesday at the Community center. Chess enthusiasts are welcome.

The Teachers Became Students

GOVERNMENT WORKSHOP—Twenty-three teachers from Westmoor and Jefferson High schools were students for an afternoon while city officials acted like teachers in a "Workshop in Local Government" last Wednesday at City Hall. The seminar-type program was termed "successful and informative" by both teachers and officials. City Manager Edward Frank (left) explains a point. Westmoor teachers taking part were George Grosser, Paul Zimmerman, Evan Maionchi, Dexter Leland, Richard McCormac, James Pettee, Lewis Moore, Alvin Wolf and Hildegard Seibel. Jefferson teachers participating were Ed Cereghino, Bruce Cunningham, Marjorie Erickson, James Force, Helen Frances, Peter Frank, George Griffin, Julianne Jansen, Don Kambic, Frank Kane, James McKenzie, Debra Simmons, Rudie Tretten and Micheal Tugendreich. Power Volts Kill Worker At Airport

An apprentice carpenter was electrocuted at International airport Thursday afternoon when the boom of a crane apparently touched a 12,000-volt power line supplying electricity to the main terminal building.

Pronounced dead on arrival at Peninsula hospital was Larry Ray Otto, 21, of Alameda.

Sheriff's Deputy Roger L. Goad said the crane, operated by Paul Morris, of San Francisco, was "possibly operated in disregard to safety rules and procedures."

Law prohibits operation of a crane within six feet of a high voltage line. The sheriff's office is investigating.

Otto, an employe of the M and K Construction company which is building a new south terminal building, was on the ground and had grasped a lifting cable from the boom of the crane to attach it to a "6-by-8" timber, a coworker, Raymond Cafini, 23, of 479 Redwood avenue, San Bruno, reported to the deputy.

Cafini said he suddenly heard Morris shout:

"Larry, Larry. He's been hit."

The mishap occurred where the new ramp is being built to connect the new terminal with the existing terminal building.

Cafini said Otto's heart was beating when he reached the victim, but that he wasn't breathing. Another co-worker administered mouth-to-mouth resuscitation until the arrival of an ambulance.

Wuerthner Named As Bank Manager

John J. Wuerthner has been appointed Executive Vice President and Manager of Systematic Savings and Loan association at 7070 Mission street, Daly City, Dr. Earle M. Young, association president, has announced.

Wuerthner brings to the Daly City banking community a background of 17 years experience in financial administration.

A graduate of the American Savings and Loan Institute, he served several Southern California banks and savings and loan associations in various capacities before becoming president and general manager of Sierra Savings and Loan association in San Bernardino in 1960.

He has been a director of the California Savings and loan league, president of the Los Angeles savings and Loan club, past chairman of the Los Angeles County Group of Savings and Loan Managers and an instructor of the Savings and Loan Institute.

He also has served as a Chamber of Commerce director, Rotary Club director and Toastmasters president.

Married 23 years, Wuerthner and his wife are the parents of five sons. The oldest is in the Army, a second is attending Stockton Junior college and the other boys are enrolling in Daly City schools.

"I am delighted to have this opportunity to become a member of the Daly City community," Wuerthner said when his appointment was announced.

JOHN J. WUERTHNER
New Vice President

"It is my earnest hope to make a real contribution to local activities." "I want everyone to know that my door is always open and that I'm looking forward to getting acquainted with the people of Daly City."

TOUR DIARY

Susan Shaffer and her second grade class at Vista Mar school toured the Spreckles Russell Dairy in San Francisco in connection with studies in social science.

North County Cancer Drive Leader Named

Albert S. Horwitz has been named North county chairman, business and professional men, for the coming 1963 San Mateo county Cancer Crusade in April.

Horwitz's appointment was announced by R. F. DeWeese, Purity Stores vice president, who serves as chairman of the business and professional division under general chairman Thomas C. Moroney.

Horwitz, a resident of Burlingame since 1942, is manager of the South San Francisco plant of the E. F. Houghton and company, a national firm manufacturing industrial oils and chemicals.

Horwitz has been active in community affairs in Burlingame as well as in professional organizations. He is currently secretary of the Burlingame Recreation commission; president, Babe Ruth Baseball league; a director of the Serra High school Dad's club, and chairman of the Joint Bayland Development committee in Burlingame.

He also has served as a national vice president of the American Society of Lubricating Engineers

TRIAL RUN—Kitty Cullen and Bert Feltinton conduct a trial run of shoe sale techniques as they prepare for the opening of Bloom's Fine Shoes in the Westlake Shopping center. Feltinton is the manager of Bloom's Westlake store, the eighth unit to be opened by the pioneer California firm. Miss Cullen is the fashion coordinator. The new outlet opens today at noon.

Inspectors Hold Meeting

The Peninsula Building Inspectors association held its monthly meeting at McDowell's restaurant in San Mateo, according to Henry Weisner, publicity chairman.

Harry Jordan, president of International Imports company, addressed the group of building, electrical and plumbing inspectors and showed a film on woods from Burma.

Approximately an hour was spent by the inspectors in classes, teaching each other various phases of the trades, Weisner said.

The next meeting will be in Daly City, Weisner said.

Optometrists Select New Directors

Appointments to the board of directors of the San Mateo county Optometric society for 1963 were announced Thursday by Dr. Lawrence K. Onitsuka of Redwood City, newly installed society president.

They include: Dr. Leon Kaster of South San Francisco, director of the department of education and research; Dr. Jack Rognas of San Mateo, director of the department of group vision; Dr. Harold A. Garrett of Daly City, director of the department of professional affairs; Dr. Philip G. Sloan of Palo Alto, director of the department of public affairs, and Dr. Norman G. Licht of San Mateo, a past president of the society, director of the department of public information.

Named as directors at large were Dr. Paul R. Leigh of Redwood City, immediate past president, and past presidents Dr. Robert L. Mandel of San Carlos, Dr. Angus M. MacLoed of Belmont, Dr. Melvin W. Bradfield of San Mateo, Dr. John Babcock of Redwood City, and Dr. David W. Allen of San Mateo.

Installation ceremonies were conducted at a dinner meeting of the society membership at the Hilton Inn.

Cherry Cake Day Planned

Westlake Shopping center stores will remain open on Washington's birthday, Friday, February 22.

The 89-store center has announced plans for a Cherry Cake Day promotion to be held in the mall on that date.

A total of 10,000 cherry cakes will be served free, with coffee, in a special "George Washington Booth."

Stores will be open until 9 p.m.

'62 Purity Earnings Up

Purity Stores earnings for 1962 will be reported better than 65 per cent ahead of 1961 according to John R. Niven, president of the 89-store California food chain.

Preliminary, unaudited results for 1962 show Purity's earnings at $483,839 or 70.5 cents per share compared with $292,051 or 42.6 cents in 1961. Earnings for 1962 also will be better than the $420,486 or 61 cents per share earned in 1960. Niven noted that more than 46 cents per share was earned in the last 16 weeks of the year and of that amount 9 cents came from the sale of real estate. For the entire year 1962 capital gains from the sale of real estate amounted to $201,305 vs. $246,631 in 1961.

Sugar 'n' Spice

By Nell Norton

TOMORROW is St. Valentine's Day and red will be the color of the day. The children will be bringing home colorful valentines and hubby (we hope) will present a nice heart-shaped box of candy.

Not to be outdone by the artistry and generosity of our families, let's make some cookies and a cherry pie to present as our offering to celebrate the day.

These cookies are made from an old fashioned sugar

These cookies are made from an old-fashioned sugar frosting.

SUGAR COOKIES

2 cups sifted flour
1 teas. baking powder
½ teas. salt
½ cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
1 egg, unbeaten
1 teablespoon milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Measure and sift the dry ingredients together. Cream the butter or margarine in a medium-sized bowl; add sugar gradually, creaming after each addition until mixture is well blended. Beat in the egg, milk and vanilla. Add the sifted dry ingredients and blend well. Cover bowl and chill until firm.

Roll out chilled dough, a small amount at a time, to ⅛-inch thickness on lightly flowered board, cut with cookie cutter. Bake on lightly greased cookie sheet in 375 degree oven five to seven minutes. (This is the time the recipe gives, but my oven is temperamental and it took closer to 10 minutes. Makes about four dozen cookies.

☆ ☆ ☆

THE FOLLOWING frosting recipe came to me as it is coming to you, in a newspaper. I clipped it, filed it and never got around to testing it until these cookie hearts called for red frosting. It's good both ways, but my family thought the "crackle-top" was best.

SUGAR FROSTING

2 tablespoons cream or evaporated milk
1 to 1 1-3 cups sifted confectioners sugar
½ teas. vanilla
Food coloring

Heat the cream or evaporated milk and add it to the sugar, add the vanilla and food coloring (red for the day). Spread on baked cookies. For the "crackle-top" cookie, spread this frosting on the hot, partially baked cookies, about three or four minutes before they come from the oven.

☆ ☆ ☆

NOW FOR the cherry pie, since the filling for a pie seems to be the easiest part, we'll concentrate on the crust and a different topping.

PIE CRUST

1 cup flour
1/3 cup shortening
½ teas. salt
3 to 4 tablespoons water, cold
The above amounts will make a shell; for a double crust, use the next recipe.
1½ cups flour
½ cup shortening
¾ teas. salt
4½ to 6 tablespoons water, cold

Sift and measure into a bowl. Add salt and shortening. Cut into flour with two knives or use a pastry blender. Cut in the shortening until the particles are the size of small peas. Now be very careful with the water, add it sparingly, sprinkle a tablespoon at a time, tossing the flour mixture with a fork to distribute it evenly. Remember you want it to be moist enough to roll evenly, but not wet. Roll out on lightly floured board.

☆ ☆ ☆

IF YOU'D LIKE topping instead of the usual double crust pie, try this:

FRENCH TOPPING

1/3 cup butter
¾ cup flour
½ cup sugar

Work these together and sprinkle over the top of cherries.

☆ ☆ ☆

NOW WE CAN'T have cherry pie without a filling and it has been my experience that it's easier and just as economical in the long run, to use the prepared filling mix as to make the filling from scratch with canned cherries. So you suit yourself on this.

Happy Valentine's Day.

Swedish Pupil to Give Talk

Helena Frissael, an exchange student from Stockholm, Sweden, attending Westmoore High school, will be the guest speaker at the Third founder's day program of the Daniel Webster P-TA.

The meeting will be held at 8 tonight in the multi - purpose room of the school, 425 El Dorado drive, Daly City.

Miss Frissael will discuss Sweden's education system comparing it with the California school system and how children are taught. Her talk will precede a period for questioning.

Miss Frissael, the first senior exchange student to attend any school in Daly City, was brought to this country by the local chapter of the American Field Service Program.

She is living at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wagner, 1063 87th street, who have a daughter, Marilyn, also a senior at Westmoor high school.

Miss Frissael must return to Sweden in June, but hopes to return to the United States to attend an eastern college.

Mrs. Curt Edgerton is chairman of the honorary life membership award program.

Mrs. Del Wilson and Mrs. California Koenig have previously been presented this award by the Daniel Webster P-TA.

Mothers of kindergarten children will be the hostesses for the evening. Kindergarten teachers will arrange the display table.

They Exchanged Vows

NEWLYWEDS—Nancy Reynolds, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Reynolds of 719 Beechwood drive, Daly City, and Frank Burger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Burger of 66 Abbot avenue, Daly City, cut their wedding cake after a reception at the House of Lawton. Marriage took place in Our Lady of Perpetual Help church.

Flower Club In Pacifica Sets Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Pacifica Flower Friends Garden club will be held next Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the Pacifica Play school building, 345 Hewitt avenue.

Kai Freitag of the Peninsula Camellia society, California Gardens Inc., Bay Ocean district, will speak on camillias and show slides of flower arrangement displays from camillia shows.

Hostesses for the evening will be Mrs. Edith Doyle and Mrs. Lila Pfleg. Members are reminded to bring plants for the plant table. Anyone interested is invited to attend this meeting.

ASSEMBLYMAN LEO RYAN will address a meeting of the Fernando Rivera P-TA at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, February 26, in the school. He will discuss: "Problems of Education as They Relate to the State Scene here in California." Ryan is vice chairman of the assembly's education committee.

4th Annual Purim Fete Is Planned

The fourth annual Purim festival, featuring the Queen Esther pageant and coronation ball, will be held this year on Saturday evening, March 9 at the Fairmont hotel in San Francisco, according to Dr. Abraham Bernstein, president of the sponsoring organization, the Jewish National Fund.

The popular "Jewish Mardi Gras" has attracted more than 2000 persons in previous years.

Seven young ladies have been entered to date and will compete for the coveted Queen Esther crown. The winner will reign over the coronation ball and act as official hostess for the year for the Jewish National Fund.

They and their sponsoring organizations are:

Nurit Brenner—Hakoah A.C.; Debbie Delman—Jewish Mother's alliance; Sandra Ann Drain—California Daytimes — B'nai B'rith Women; Judith Ann Fairstone—Junior Hadassah; Miriam Hausman—Park Presidio Hadassah; Lenore Rain—David Landau Lodge; and Sheryl Wain—B'nai B'rith chapter 1079 of Palo Alto.

Chairman of the event for the fourth consecutive year is Vernon Kaufman, he will be assisted by Mrs. Iisidor Stark. Both are vice presidents of the JNF council.

Contestants will be trained for the pageant by the House of Charm. They will meet for the first time at a photo session at Holiday Lodge in San Francisco, at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Del Courtney and his orchestra will play for the coronation ball. Hollywood and Israeli entertainers will perform.

Memberships To Be Given

The Westmoor High school P-TA will conduct a founder's day program and award two honorary life memberships at a meeting at 8 tomorrow night in the Little Theatre of the school.

PR Manager Slates Talk

John K. Philpott, manager of public relations for Safeway Stores, will address a meeting of the Westlake Y-Wives at 9:30 Monday morning in the banquet room of the Westlake Bowl.

YWCA Readies New Programs

A new session of YWCA-sponsored classes for children and adults has been announced. New and old classes will be offered, starting Monday, February 25.

A new plan of pre-registration to avoid disappointments will be inaugurated with this week-week session.

The system has been used for creative group play and the nursery class.

For continuing classes, registration for the new session will take place at the last class of the current session, or by telephone or in person at the Y office next week.

For new classes and for interested persons new to the Y, preregistration will take place next week at the Y office, 375 South Mayfair avenue in the Westlake Shopping Center.

New office hours are 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., Monday through Thursday, and 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. Friday.

Among the classes to be offered for preschool children will be creative group play, swimming for mother and child and basic dance.

For the six to twelve year old child, ballet dancing, Hula dancing, baton, and several new and continuing art classes will be given. Details are now available at the Y office.

For adults, new and old classes will be offered in golf, hula dancing, self - improvement and evening bridge. The Wednesday morning "Ladies Day with the YWCA," which includes nursery service for young children, will continue with a choice of knitting, mending and alterations and bridge classes.

According to Y director Pat Martinez, the new preregistration plan will save time at the first meeting of the new classes, since only a few last-minute registrations will have to be made.

It will eliminate disappointment involved in class cancellation for insufficient enrollment since it will be known in advance whether there is sufficient interest in a class to hold it.

Monthly Brunch Planned

The Women's Society of World Service will meet for its monthly brunch at 10 a.m. Tuesday in the social hall of Seacliff Community church.

"Dear Addie" is the theme of the brunch, according to Mrs. Del Dilbeck, program chairman.

She said the theme asks the question, "Who Cares?" in relation to the aged, handicapped, juvenile delinquents, problem drinkers, disturbed children and broken homes.

Participants in the program include Betty Disque, Irmhild Jeromin, Mrs. Eugene Biedermann, Mrs. Clark Robb and Mrs. Frank Toft.

State P-TA Official to Address Alta Loma Unit

Mrs. George Beanston of the California Congress of Parent Teachers will address a founders' day program of the Alta Loma P-TA at 8 tomorrow evening in the school's multi-use room.

She is a past president of the San Francisco P-TA, second district. The topic of her talk will be: "Greater Vision."

Mrs. Harry F. Dan, Alta Loma P-TA president, will introduce past recipients of honorary life membership awards. Mrs. Charles Greenfield will explain the uses of founders' day silver donations.

Three life membership awards will be made.

Girl Scout Troop 319, under the leadership of Mrs. William MacLaren, will lead the pledge of allegiance.

Character education chairman Mrs. Kenneth Morris will offer a short "thought for the day." A nominating committee, headed by Mrs. Juan Garcia, will give a report.

The Alta Loma Dance Band, under the direction of Al Bettucchi, will give three selections.

MRS. GEORGE BEANSTON Founders' Day Speaker

Fuchsia Unit Meets Friday

The Pacifica branch of the American Fuchsia society will meet at 8 p.m. Friday at the Sharp Park Elementary school.

A demonstration of pruning and re-potting of plants by Joseph Machado of Machado's Fuchsia Gardens, Oakland, will be given. The public is welcome at all meetings.

Mrs. Uddenberg To Give Speech

The Pacifica Federated Women's club will hear Mrs. Alf Uddenberg, second vice president of the Golden Gate Council of Women's Federated clubs, at a meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the library of Terra Nova High school.

Members are urged to bring white elephant items to be used as prizes at a CARE benefit card party February 26 in the library.

Members are asked also to bring wildflower seeds to the session. The seeds will be used by youth groups to beautify Pacifica hills.

Edison P-TA Will Observe 3rd Birthday

The Thomas Edison P-TA will conduct a founders day and third birthday celebration at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow in the school.

The chairman is Mrs. William Ward. A variety show entitled, "Remembering," will be presented.

Founders' day is the 65th birthday of the national P-TA. Two honorary life memberships will be presented to members of the community for outstanding service to the school and children. Mrs. Robert Hansen will make the presentation.

Mrs. Vernon Okerstrom, hospitality chairman, will serve refreshments after the meeting.

La Paz Parlor To Welcome 2

Formal initiation rites will be held by the La Paz Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, at 8:15 p.m. Monday, in Nick's Restaurant, Pacifica, to welcome two new members to the order.

Mrs. Frances Baxter, refreshment chairman, has selected valentines as the theme for a gathering after the meeting.

Today, at the home of past president Mildred Yancey of 660 Linda Mar boulevard, a fund raising clothing party will be held.

Tomorrow, members of the parlor have been invited by Bonita parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, Redwood City, to be guests at an installation of officers.

Koffee Klatch Is Scheduled

The Westlake School P-TA will present its third annual Koffee Klatch Thursday, March 28.

A style show, "International Jets to Fashion," will highlight the event.

By Louanne Heath

THE REV. Matthew Sullivan, who usually is the only man attending the annual Our Lady of Perpetual Help fashion show, will be happy to share his table with several other gentlemen this year.

Lt. David Hansen of the Daly City police department, Walt Mignault and Robert Battaglia all have announced they plan to attend The Gardens of Shalimar fashion show at the Del Webb Town House in San Francisco Saturday. Hansen and Mignault will be on hand to see daughters Karen Hansen, 10, and Janine Mignault, 6, make their debut as fashion models. Battaglia's wife will be among the ladies modeling new spring and summer styles.

Hope Robbins, beauty expert, whose salons are donating the cosmetics and the hair styling for the models, will be among the guests of honor.

MRS. JACK ERVIN of Winston Manor is extremely busy preparing for The Garden of Fashion Show being presented at 12:30 p.m. Saturday in the Hall of Flowers, San Francisco.

Mrs. Ervin is chairman of the event and Mrs. George Mullen is co-chairman. The show is being sponsored by the Nilart Unit of the Daughters of the Nile.

Approximately 500 women are expected to be on hand to hear Paul Speegle narrate and introduce fashions from the collection of styles by Sue Scott of Westlake.

Missing from the audience will be Sue who is convalescing from a recent illness.

A LOT OF EXCITEMENT and fun is in store for the younger set Saturday in the Eureka Square shopping district in Pacifica!

Television's Marshall Jay and Pacifica's clowns, Buffles and Ruffles, will be on hand to help celebrate the opening of a new bakery, coffee shop and service station.

Tickets for a drawing for a new car, currently on display in the window of Alexander's Home Furnishings store, will be distributed for the first time Saturday.

THE CURRENT dearth of snow is not going to discourage junior and senior high school groups of Pedro Valley Presbyterian church. The two groups intend to go ahead with their planned snow trip to Columbia on March 2 and 3.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Powers will accompany the group.

☆ ☆ ☆

MRS. GRACE CRAMER, Mrs. Frances Yuriberri and Mrs. Charlotte Hogan were the winners of the first, second and third prizes at the Catholic Daughters of America, Court of St. Mary, fashion show Thursday night.

Mrs. Deloris Wettstein was chairman of the event, which was attended by more than 200 women.

Sarann Daly of The Fashion of Westlake was on hand to narrate and introduce styles as they were modeled in the auditorium of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church.

A FASHION SHOW of Accessories for the Home was the highlight of the annual YWCA bridge luncheon Friday morning in the Westlake Bowl.

Women from the Pacifica, War Memorial and Westlake bridge groups were on hand to enjoy displays of lovely bric-a-brac for the home.

Ann Johnson, chairman of the event, had objets d'art skillfully displayed on a large table and then exhibited each item individually, giving a short lecture on each. Mrs. Cynthia Tauber and Mrs. Mary DeWitt carried the pieces — all of which came from Ricter's Interiors — among the guests for closer scrutiny.

THE WESTMOOR High Adult school has issued a call for interested persons with musical training to take part in a symphony orchestra currently being organized for the spring semester.

The symphony will welcome musicians of any age at its meetings every Thursday from 7 p.m. to 9:45 p.m. in the Music Alley of Westmoor High school. Howard Loeffler, music instructor at Westmoor, will conduct the sessions.

Nineteen persons attended an organizational meeting for the orchestra last Thursday evening. Loeffler said many musicians, especially those playing string instruments, are still needed.

More information concerning the group may be obtained by phoning the Westlake Music Center at PL 6-2434.

DUE TO an error, a number of youngsters from Christopher Columbus school were named in this column last week as having been named to the school honor roll. Actually, the students had been honored by receiving student of the month awards. The pupils received special attention in January for their citizenship.

Jeff P-TA to Note Founding

Jefferson High school's P-TA will conduct its founder's day meeting at 8 tonight in the school cafeteria.

Mrs. Robert Williams is the program chairman. The Belletones choir will perform.

Mrs. Anne Eason will deliver a history of the P-TA, covering the period from 1926 to 1962.

Mrs. Donald Iwahashi will present an honorary life membership pin to a member. Mrs. Ellsworth Rowe is in charge of refreshments.

Gardens of Shalimar Style Show Readied

The Gardens of Shalimar fashion show luncheon, to be presented by the Mothers club of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church Saturday, will provide guests with a preview of the latest spring fashions from H. Liebes.

Mrs. O. Walter Mignault, chairman, has announced that various committees working on the show have completed their preparations.

The show, to be held at Del Webb's Towne House, in San Francisco, will have as guests of honor the Rev. Matthew P. Sullivan, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church, and Hope Robbins, television personality and specialist in corrective makeup.

One of the highlights of the event will be the awarding of a $100 merchandise order from H. Liebes.

'Magic Lady' Will Be Seen

"The Magic Lady," an original skit written by Mrs. Joyce Lederman, B'nai B'rith Women District 4 indoctrination chairman, will be presented at a meeting of Skyline B'nai B'rith Women at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Lake Merced Sports center.

In addition to the skit, nominations for new officers will be offered. Mrs. Norman Steinberg will be in charge of the skit.

Sorority Unit Slates Party

Psi Epsilon chapter of Beta Sigma Phi will hold its spring rush party at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the home of Mrs. Robert Coons, 333 Palomar drive, Daly City.

The rush party will have a Valentine theme with refreshments and games. Social chairman is Mrs. Richard Rowland. She and her committee will receive guests.

A bowling party was held at Serra Bowl.

Club Schedules Rummage Sale

The Mater Dolorosa Women's club of South San Francisco will conduct a rummage sale from 2 to 9 p.m. Friday and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at 443 Grand avenue, South San Francisco.

Donations may be made by telephoning Mrs. George Engler, chairman of the sale, or the co-chairman, Mrs. William Rebholtz.

Drive Begun to Collect Books for Oceana Library

A magazine drive is being conducted by the Oceana High school P-TA to benefit the school library, Mrs. Carl P. McCarthy, P-TA president, has announced.

The magazines will be bound and kept in the library for students' reference in completing reports and assignments under the direction of Gregg J. Figgins, librarian.

"We hope to form a collection of magazines which date from 1957 and earlier to the present," Figgins said. "What are current events to a teacher is ancient history to students if they can't find information in magazines on the subject."

Residents are urged to telephone Figgins at Oceana to make arrangements for donating magazines.

Figgins is interested in obtaining back issues of the following specialized magazines, in addition to the more common general-interest periodicals:

American Heritage, Aviation Week, Business Week, Bulletin of the Atomic Scientists, Department of State Bulletin, Electronics World, Foreign Affairs, Horizon, Missiles and Rockets, Monthly Labor Review and Nation.

Nation's Business, National Review, New Republica, New York Times Magazine, Parents Magazine, Reporter, Science, Scientific American, Theatre Arts, United Nations Review, and Vital Speeches of the Day.

Annual Party Is Tomorrow

All YWCA members and friends are urged to attend the annual Y membership meeting and party at the Westlake clubhouse from 1 to 3 p.m. tomorrow.

The program will feature free nursery service.

Asking for members' "heart's desire" on Valentine's Day will be a panel of YWCA committee members who will speak on Y programs and stimulate membership discussion of currently popular Y-sponsored clubs and classes.

2 Daly City Men to Talk At Meeting

George J. Buttner, 201 Hillcrest drive, Daly City, has been named as one of the speakers for the forthcoming circuit conference of Jehovah's Witnesses February 22-24 at the Scottish Rite auditorium in San Francisco.

Buttner will participate in a one hour symposium during the Friday evening session with three other ministers from San Francisco and South San Francisco congregations.

Conference Theme

The theme they will develop is: "Working Whole-Souled for New World Interests," based on the scripture text of Colossians 3:23.

Buttner will discuss house to house ministry, as performed by Jehovah's Witnesses, and demonstrate effective ways of making calls.

Opening the Saturday evening program will be John C. Landers, 42 Wilson street, Daly City. He will present 15 minutes of experiences of several ministers in the circuit, encountered in the field ministry.

Both Buttner and Landers are associate ministers with the Daly City Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses.

Arrangements

Organizational arrangements have been completed, with the setting up of 20 departments necessary for a convention of this size. Some 2000 delegates are expected to attend.

Saturday and Sunday mornings, delegates from all 16 congregations in the circuit will visit San Francisco residents, inviting them to the public discourse, "Who Will Win the Struggle for World Supremacy?" by A. L. Borchardt, at 3 p.m. February 24.

Beth El Men Plan Annual Dinner Fete

The annual brotherhood dinner of the Men's club of Peninsula Temple Beth El will be held this Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock at the Temple's Fellowship Hall, 1700 Alameda de las Pulgas, San Mateo. Larry Wellman is the program chairman.

Guest speaker will be David Lesser Caplan of Los Angeles, assistant executive secretary of the National Federation of Temple Brotherhoods.

Caplan is in charge of the West Coast office of the Federation. He will speak on: "Brotherhood, 1963 . . . Where Are We Headed?"

A special feature of the program will be the showing of a film, "The Chosen People," which was originally presented on NBC-TV by the National Council of Catholic Men as part of the "Prejudice, USA" series, a dramatization of anti-semitism in America.

The program is open to members and friends of the Temple. Reservations at $1.50 per person should be made with David Sterling, president of the Men's club, FI 5-1570; Larry Wellman, LY 3-6267, or the Temple office.

Children to Hold Services

Congregation B'nai Israel, Daly City, will hold a children's Sabbath service at 8:30 Friday night.

The entire service will be conducted by the students of the second grade Hebrew school.

Rabbi Solomon A. Shore will deliver a short sermon and will speak on "As We Count Our Blessings."

The junior choir, accompanied by Lillian Benson, will sing Hebrew melodies

Youths Will Participate

Junior high and high school groups at Broadmoor Presbyterian church will participate at 9:30 and 11 a.m. worship services Sunday at the church.

Lisa Hollenbeck is moderator of the junior high unit and Charles Suenderman leads the high school group.

Two study classes for each group are held Sunday mornings by Ted Peeeimer and Tom House. Other teachers include Patricia Morales, Fred Teffault, Sally Black and Judy Johnson.

The Sunday evening fellowship meeting for these two groups is led by advisors Dorothy Spratt and Alice Kerr, high school, and by Ralph Henn with parents' assistance, junior high.

These Women's association circles will meet this month:

Temple Plans Special Music

Temple Judea will hold a special Jewish Music Sabbath at 8:30 Friday night at the Temple.

A program highlighting Hasidic Jewish music will be presented. Cantor Harold Wachter, who has been associated with Temple Judea since its start almost ten years ago, has been for many years a student of this type of music.

He has made a specialization of this form of devotional prayer chanting that was developed several hundred years ago in the synagogues of Eastern Europe.

The Hasidic Jew was especially concerned that his prayers to God be expressed in joyful tempos. The minor keys are constant throughout the music but are dominated by a distinct type of joyful, prayerful chant.

Dr. Leonard Beck, distinguished organist and musicologist, will accompany Cantor Wachter in the musical service.

Temple Judea also is planning a musical presentation for April, "Resistance and Redemption."

Those interested in joining with members of the Temple Judea volunteer choir to participate in rehearsals for this presentation are urged to call the Temple office at PL 5-6362.

Lutheran Women Plan Meeting

Mrs. John Nelson, chairman of Lay Visitation of Lutheran Welfare will be the guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the Westlake Lutheran Church Women, 8 p.m., 222 Avalon drive, Daly City.

Mrs. Nelson will present information about the program of visiting the sick and bedridden in area hospitals. She will show slides and present ideas for making small gifts for the patients.

Mrs. Les Laingen and Mrs. Robert Greenstrand will serve as hostesses.

Church Women Plan Meeting

The women of Bethlehem Lutheran church will hold their first meeting at 8 Monday evening to discuss the program and mission of their Women's auxiliary.

The meeting will be held at the parsonage, 2780 Berkshire drive, San Bruno. The Rev. George S. Johnson will lead the group in a brief Bible study. A discussion on the formation of a local ALCW (American Lutheran Church Women) for Bethlehem will be held.

Adult Courses Are Offered

Adult study courses have begun at Temple Judea. Three eight-week courses are offered. All courses are held Tuesday evenings.

Courses are: Beginners' Hebrew 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., Cantor Wachter, teacher; Jewish Religious thought 7:30 to 8:30 p.m., Jacob Drory, teacher; A survey of Jewish history, 8:30 to 9:30 p.m., Rabbi Herbert Morris, teacher.

BICYCLE STOLEN

Garry Troxler of 502 Niantic avenue reported the theft of his bicycle to Daly City police last week. He said the bicycle was valued at $20.

LOSES WALLET

Odvar Hallgren of 112 Encanteo way, Pacifica, reported to Daly City police last week the loss of his wallet containing $60 and personal papers while he was at the Westlake Bowl.

1st Officers Are Elected

The first officers for Bethlehem Lutheran church were elected last week.

The Rev. George S. Johnson announced that Jack Vogee of San Bruno was elected as the first president of this new congregation.

Vogee is a sales manager and resides at 2440 Lexington way with his wife and four children.

Other officers elected were: Ken Martin of 1861 Willow way, San Bruno, vice president; Howard Loeffler of 231 Beverly place, Pacifica, secretary; Herman Langbehn, 3900 Pacific Heights boulevard, San Bruno, treasurer, and Walter Ness, 3600 Elston drive, San Bruno, assistant treasurer.

Officers and council members will be installed at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday.

Rabbi Rosen to Discuss Torah

Rabbi Sanford E. Rosen will preach on "It's a Mitzvah . . ." —thoughts about the 613 Commandments in the Torah at Sabbath Eve services at 8:30 p.m. Friday at Peninsula Temple Beth El.

Assisting Rabbi Rosen and Cantor Herbert I. Epstein in leading the worship will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schofield and their son, Michael Gary, who will become a Bar Mitzvah. An Oneg Shabbat after the service will be in honor of the Bar Mitzvah.

New Sermon Series Set At Westside

Pastor A. David Donnelly of the Westside Baptist church will begin a new series of studies on the topic, "Visitation Evangelism."

The meetings will be held at the home of Gilmore Swanson, 442 Helen drive, Millbrae.

Several youths of the church will go to the Youth for Christ Rally at the War Memorial auditorium in San Francisco at 7:30 p.m.

A Sunday school teachers' meeting will be held 7:30 Monday night at the home of superintendent Alton Swedberg, 19 Creston avenue, Daly City.

The board of deacons will hold a meeting later to discuss the 1963-64 church budget.

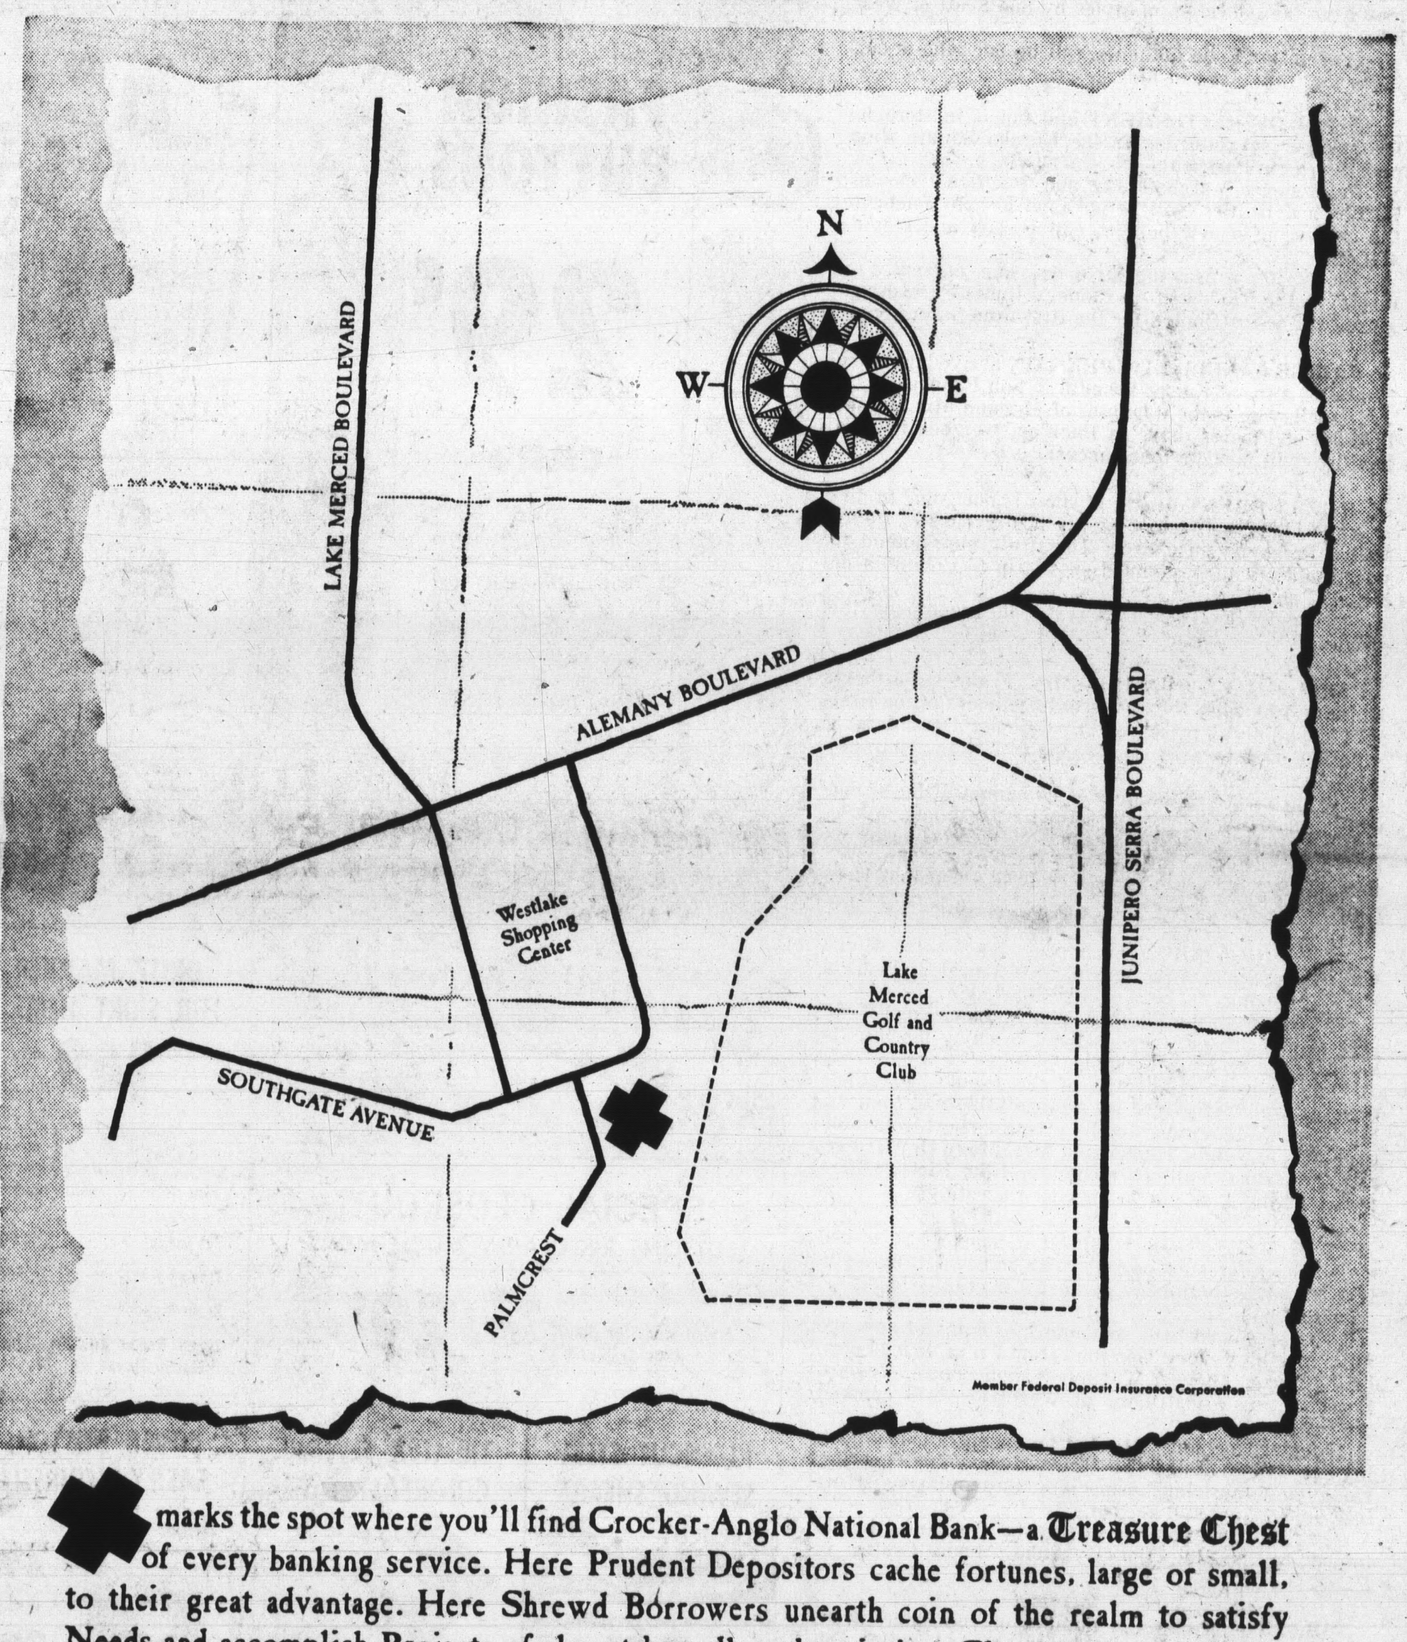

The Rev. Mr. Donnelly will speak on: "They Gave Their All," at the Sunday morning service in the auditorium of the Southwood school, Southwood drive and Hill streets, South San Francisco.

Jeff's UN 'Delegates'

Jeff Pupils Will Attend Model U.N.

Ten students from Jefferson High school will participate in the Model United Nations March 5 in Berkeley on the University of California campus.

Every year, the high school model UN is organized by the assignment of one or two delegations or countries to each school participating.

This year Jefferson received the delegations of Bulgaria, a Communist bloc nation and Rudnda, an African nation.

The students who were elected to take part by the faculty, are Bulgaria delegation—Evelyn Morabe, Lowell Williams, Judy Streeter, Linda Laureano, and Yvonne Felch; Rudnda delegation—Stewart Slinger, Judi Reed, Elaine Taycode and Jim Martin.

The purpose of the program is to present a realistic replica of the United Nations and give students a chance to experience the politics, excitement and responsiblities of the delegates.

Weeks before the model UN opens, resolutions are submitted to a United Nations committee.

What's Doing At Westmoor

By SHERRY ROSEN

"THE OLD ORDER changeth, yielding place to new" . . . the hilltop school is getting settled under a new regime as the spring semester begins. New executive board, new executive assembly representatives, new class and club officers. For some, new teachers and new classes, new rally schedule, allowing two separate rallies, and new physical education activities (yoga for some!). Some people have left, others have come; but the merry-go-round hasn't missed a beat.

Gone on a part-time basis are the four ambitious seniors now taking two courses at San Francisco State. Roye Abbott, Marilyn Downey, Marguerite Jarchow, and Laurel Kimbrell are the participants in the second annual advanced placement program at State . . . New additions to the P.E. department are student teacher Kathy Shelly and Rosemarie Cooper. Miss Cooper is replacing Miss Sally Clark, who is now residing in Hawaii . . . sorely missed around campus are librarian Mrs. Anne Lynde and Spanish instructor Howard Miguel, both on sick leave. Mrs. Natalie Freehling has replaced Senor Miguel in the language department.

CLUB CAPERS: Automotive Safety club, under the direction of George Chrestionson, conducted a 10-point car safety check two days last week in the WHS parking lot . . . Future teachers are planning to see "Diamond Head" for their semester activity . . . now that the academic news has hit home, CSF is taking applications for membership for the spring semester.

RAMBLING ON: Very "au courant" is the decorated bulletin board outside nurse Mrs. Phyllis Colbert's office, which reads: "Help Catch Your Valentine With Good Grooming" . . . chorus for the musical production, "Get Up and Go," had its first rehearsal last week . . . English 5E class viewed a movie on the history of the Swedish film industry — could it be mere coincidence that Swedish exchange student Helena Frisell is a member of the class? . . . Green-and-white WHS decals are on sale in the cafe at 25 cents for patriotic Rams . . . having just learned that the Chinese word for vinegar is tsu, one pert student of the Oriental language popped up with this brilliant observation "I like tsu on my salad."

10 Students Attend Clinic

Eight vocalists and two instrumental players from Jefferson High school attended the Pacific Music Clinic in Stockton.

The students performed under the direction of nationally known conductors.

A choir, which consisted of 1200 high school students, was directed by conductor Richard P. Condie of the Morman Tabernacle Choir.

An all-day rehearsal schedule awaited the students when they arrived on the University of Pacific campus.

After an evening banquet, they gave a performance in the Stockton Civic auditorium before an audience of 5000 people.

Those students who attended from Jefferson were Al Turriciano, band; Karen Franklian, orchestra; Cheryl Fistolera, Gloria Bjoring, Jane Fox, Joanne Fanucchi, Mary J. Marchetti, Carol Barber, Manuel Gardner, and Judy Streeter of the a cappella choir.

2 Teachers Join Staff

Westmoor has two new teachers this semester. Replacing Sally Clark, now living in Hawaii, is Rosemarie Cooper. Mrs. Natalie Freehling replaces Howard Miguel who is on sick leave.

Miss Cooper will teach physical education. She has gained student instruction experience at Tamalpais High school in Mill Valley, teaching five classes for girls in basketball. Previously when student teaching, she taught swimming, hockey, basketball, volley ball and body mechanics.

Although swimming rates the top spot on her list of favorite sports, she prefers to teach body mechanics.

Miss Cooper graduated from San Francisco State college and now resides in the East Bay.

Mrs. Freehling, a language teacher, received her bachelor of arts at the University of California in 1960 and is working on her master of arts in English at the University of South Carolina. She teaches Spanish 1 and 2 and English 1 at Westmoor.

Westmoor Plans Spirit Program

Monday marks the beginning of annual spirit week festivities at Westmoor High school.

International Tuesday will feature costumes from various nations. Silent anticipation of after school competition sports will prevail Wednesday, Mute Day and Color Day Thursday, will complete the four day merrymaking.

On the first day, Madhatter Day, students will show their talents and don gayly decorated hats.

After Tuesday classes, a varsity basketball game against the Jefferson Indians is scheduled.

Wednesday, students are to remain "mute" until after-school co-ed competitive games.

Green, white, yellow and red will adorn the campus Thursday as students wear class colors. Seniors will wear white; juniors, Green; sophomores, yellow and freshmen red.

Vista Mar Pupils Receive Awards

"Citizens of the Month" awards have been presented to students at Vista Mar school.

These were the recipients:

First grade—Stephen Andrews, Diane Collins, Eric Knuth, Cookie Taxier, Margie Kirkpatrick and Greg Pulliam. Second grade—Tommy Geller, Michele Thomas, Scott Christensen, Debra Perret. Third grade—Brad Casey, Cindy Barringer, Raymond Taylor and Anne Gunthorp.

Fourth grade—Mike Baker, Diana Christ, Jim Musslewhite, Kristeen Desormeaux, Stephen Gonzales and Sharon Panelli Fifth grade—Chris Spieller, Carolyn Bjorkquist, Bob Peters and Laura Pacitti.

VANDALS AT WORK

Dora Brown, 334 Higate avenue, Daly City, told police last week that three youths had thrown eggs at her house.

Study Begun On Bay Area

Third grade students at Vista Mar are working on a new unit in social studies, "Greater San Francisco Bay Area."

This unit was prepared at the county level through the co-operative efforts of school districts and counties in the Bay Area.

Parents have been encouraged to enrich their children's experiences because of easy access to major portions of Bay Area counties.

Plant of the Week

Rosemary Ideal for Cover Use

Rosemary officinalis, variety "Ingrami," which was presented with the "Outstanding Plant Award" of the California Horticultural Society at their annual awards dinner, is the Plant of the Week. This new rosemary was shown at an early 1962 spring meeting of the Society by John Coulter of Coulter's Nursery, San Carlos.

The "Ingrami" rosemary is a spreading prostrate plant, ideal for use as a ground cover or over rock walls. It differs from the common, prostrate rosemary in that the flowers are more outstanding and a far deeper shade of blue. The foliage color is also much deeper. "Ingrami" starts blooming in January and puts on a truly beautiful show of color for about three months. Unlike the common rosemary it does not produce a scattering of bloom throughout the year.

The actual importer of this new rosemary is a dark secret. The story goes that an ardent gardener saw the plant and recognized its superiority while touring an English garden. He pinched off a piece and smuggled it home to California hidden in his or her clothing.

Plants of this rosemary were propagated by Margaret Truex and Peggy Stebbens at their Page Mill Perennial garden for a few years prior to their retirement. It is now being propagated in small amounts by a couple of wholesale plant growers and while it is still rare it is available in the gallon can size at some nurseries.

PLANT OF THE WEEK — is Rosemar Officinalis, variety "Ingrami," which won the California Horticultural society's 1962 award of outstanding merit. The award was presented to John Coulter, Coulter's Nursery, San Carlos, exhibitor of the plant at one of the society's regular monthly meetings.

John Coulter set out a plant of this rosemary in his home garden in Redwood City just a year ago. In one year it has spread to three feet in diameter, and at this time, in spite of the cold and the rain it is a mass of gorgeous color. Coulter says the plant will spread to about five feet in diameter and may get as much as two feet in height. All it needs is good drainage and plenty of sunshine.

Rosemary gets its name from the Latin for sea-dew in allusion to its being found on the sea cliffs of southern France. It is one of the best-loved of the fragrant herbs. It is delicious as a seasoning herb if used sparingly. The branches keep well in arrangements and the needle-like leaves may be dried and bottled for use in the kitchen.

Rosemary is one of the easiest of ground covers to grow and maintain. It has just two requirements, good drainage and plenty of sunshine. Check the soil carefully for drainage before planting. Many hillsides may have a sharp slope but pockets in the slope may hold water due to the clay soil so the planting holes will have to be modified if rosemary is to be the ground cover. It gets along beautifully with a minimum of water, even in our hottest summers. It does not care for fertilizer prefering to live meagerly. We know of no insects that infest this plant so spraying is unnecessary.

Rosemary is very difficult to grow from seed but roots readily from cuttings taken in early fall. Six-inch tips are best. These should be inserted in a mixture of equal parts of sand and soil and kept moist until roots are formed. We have had great success moving the rooted cuttings from the cutting frame right to a place in the garden although a few months of pot culture is usually recommended. The young cuttings will need more moisture than a mature, established plant but do not keep them overly damp.

Economical Planting Season Is Drawing Rapidly to a Close

By IVA NEWMAN

February brings ideal conditions for the planting of bare-root plants. However, the moist soil and mild weather that make for the perfect planting combination also pushes the plants into active growth and rushes the economy planting season to an end.

Every type of plant that can be set out bare-root in the place where it is to remain gets a much better start. When growth on bare-root plants in the nursery reach a certain stage, nurserymen must rush them out of the storage beds and bins and into containers. This automatically raises the price about $1 for the average wholesale price of egg cans is 46 cents, the container growing medium about 15 cents and labor 40 to 50 cents, for each plant.

There is still a good selection of roses and dwarf fruits as well as standard-sized fruits and a wide variety of shade trees for bare-root planting. We saw a wide variety of apples, cherries, pears, plums, apricots and nectarines. Among the bare-root shade trees we found white birch, Modesto ash, fruitless mulberry and the Albizzia or Silk Oak. We also observed plenty of artichoke and rhubarb roots.

While the modern garden is much smaller than the gardens of a generation ago and modern food packaging makes the growing of food a non-necessity, home grown food is still a real taste treat. Many of our food producing plants and trees can serve a dual purpose in the modern small garden. Strategetically placed they do an excellent job in the garden design and the fruit can be considered a bonus.

Double Duty Plants

High on this list of dual plants are strawberry rhubarb and the commercial artichoke. In fact we have noticed recently that these two edibles are doing a third job in that flower arrangers have awakened to their possibilities. The strawberry rhubarb grown as a single clump and the huge leaf with its bright red stalk provides a very tropical looking plant. It takes three of these plants to provide the average small family with pie and breakfast fruit during the season and most landscape architects recommend the use of three plants in a group. The advantage of using rhubarb as a large-leafed, low-growing shrub is that it will take full sun while many of the regular large-leafed ornamentals burn unless planted in the shade.

The artichoke is truly a decorative plant. One large garden that we enjoy has used them as a low hedge along a cement walk leading to a covered swimming pool. The family love the fruits, the hedge is very ornamental and occasionally the owner allows a fruit to blossom so she can use the big blue flower in an arrangement.

Both artichokes and rhubarb are sturdy perennials. The artichoke is propagated by removing the sucker growths at the base of the plants. These growths should be planted about four feet apart if you are growing them for fruit and not for looks but as a hedge plant two to two and a half feet is ample. Rhubarb is propagated as a division of the crown. These crowns should be set at soil level and about three feet apart. Both plants need a well enriched soil for luxurious growth.

Dwarf Fruit Trees

The new dwarf fruit trees take home-grown fruit right out of the luxury class. They produce a tree that stays within easy reach of the gardener both for harvesting the fruit and for any cultural upkeep such as spraying that may be necessary. They are available with two and sometimes three varieties of the same fruit or similar fruit on a single tree. We prefer a tree budded to the same kind but different varieties. Three kinds of peaches or apples, for instance, would provide three different ripening dates so that the family would not be swamped with an overabundant crop at any time. In fact a tree with three varieties of one fruit would just about furnish a small family with fresh fruit and possibly one or two small packets for the freezer.

There is just no doubt about well-grown home produced fruit being superior in flavor to that purchased in the market. In the first place the commercial fruit grower must select varieties, not so much for their taste as for their packing, shipping and keeping qualities. The home gardener can select tender fleshed, juicier type fruit as his fruit will be picked a few at a time with no thought of haste. Another advantage is that fruit on the home gardener's tree can be left until it is fully ripe and at the peak of its flavor while the commercial grower must harvest at the best packing and shipping stage.

Another item of interest to the commercial grower that need not trouble the home gardener is "peak production." Tree plantings in fruit orchards are scientifically spaced to produce the greatest amount of fruit per tree and space. The home gardener can space his trees to suit the needs of his garden. He can set a tree within a foot of a fence or wall and enjoy the flowers and fruit on the open side. He can espalier it, crowd it in with other shrubs or use it any number of ways so long as he realizes it takes a certain amount of sun to produce flowers and fruit.

Beautiful Ornamental

Peach trees are one of the garden's most beautiful ornamentals in early spring when the buds open to clothe the branches in fragrant blooms. We always advocate that peach tree pruning be postponed until flowering time so the branches may be used for indoor decoration. Pruning at this time does a thinning job also. More thinning can be practiced after the fruit is formed if you want extra large, tender-fleshed fruit. This is a very pleasant job on dwarf fruit trees.

Many landscape gardeners believe every garden should have one apple tree. The apple blossom is noted for its daintiness and each spring the apple trees are really lovely. Then, in the fall when the fruit colors up, they put on a second lovely show. The apple makes such an attractive shade tree that it could be planted in a terrace or patio but, in this type of location a standard sized tree should be used so branching could start high enough for a man to walk beneath.

In addition to apples and peaches there are pears, plums, cherries, apricots and nectarines. If you are not acquainted with the varieties be sure to do your shopping at a local nursery for these established houses specialize in varieties that have proven worthwhile in their customer area.

Plants and trees capable of being sold as bare root are sturdy, long lasting plants. Given any kind of proper treatment they will be with you almost a lifetime. Dig the holes deep and wide. Work the soil up with plenty of humus and check the drainage before refilling. Do not add any all-purpose fertilizer at planting time but do add a very generous amount of bonemeal, either raw or steamed. A heaping cupful is not a bit too much for each plant. Work the bonemeal into the soil that goes about the roots where it will be available to the roots when they are ready for it. Bonemeal does not burn as all-purpose fertilizers do so it is perfectly safe to use at planting time.

Stake and tie trees then give each plant a good soaking.

Horticultural Society Holds Awards Dinner

The California Horticultural society held its annual Awards Dinner at the Edgewater Inn, near the Oakland airport, February 4. Two men and two plants received the society's highest accolade.

Maunseil Van Rensselaer, director of the Saratoga Horticultural foundation, was given the "Annual Award of the California Horticultural Society" for his "Outstanding Contribution to Horticulture." Van Rensselaer was instrumental in getting 27 new and improved plants introduced into commerce. Some of these are patented new introductions and some are clone-grown varieties of outstanding specimens of established varieties.

F. Owen Pearce, building contractor, was given the "Rixford Award" for his continuous and untiring efforts in behalf of the California Horticultural society. Pearce has been in charge of publication and circulation of the society's journal, a regular exhibitor in the plant section of the monthly meetings and a ready help for every project undertaken by the society. The Rixford award brings with it a book of the recipient's choice. Owen Pearce chose "Rhododendrons of the World and How to Grow Them" by Leach.

Speaker of the evening was Woodbridge Metcalf, Professor of Forestry, Emeritus, University of California. Subject of Professor Metcalf's talk was "Horticulture in the Wild." The talk was illustrated with color slides taken during the past 15 years. Highlight of the lecture was several views of the ancient "Bristlecone Pine trees." These trees are claimed by some foresters to be over 4000 years old. Professor Metcalf believes that 2000 years is more nearly correct, but many more tests will be needed to be certain of their age. Views of the "Black Hemlock" with the surrounding terrain were most interesting as this tree does not like to live where people live. It is a beautiful tree and would be a fine addition to cultivated plantings if its cultural needs could be fitted to populated areas. A pictorial trip along Highway 32 around Birney Falls in the fall when leaf color was at its height brought exclamations from the audience and closed the program.

The California Horticultural society meets the third Monday evening of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Academy of Science in Golden Gate park. Every one interested in horticulture is welcome. A small fee is charged non-members.

Nurserymen's Meet Delayed

Chet Williams, president of the Peninsula chapter, California Association of Nurserymen, announced the February meeting has been postponed to tomorrow, due to the Nurserymen's Institute at Davis being held on the regular meeting date.

Jules Eggli, Eggli Nursery, San Mateo, host for the meeting announced it would be held at The Shadows restaurant on Second avenue, San Mateo.

The program for the evening will include a film on new annuals prepared by the Ferry-Morse company, and a run-down on bulbs by Barclay Brown of the Brown Bulb ranch, Capitola.

CSM Reservoir Is Completed

Completion of a one-half million gallon reservoir for the College of San Mateo was announced last week.

The reservoir is a pre-stress concrete tank, 26 feet high and 61 feet in diameter.

The bottom of the tank was lined with flexible asphalt panels by Globe Linings, Inc., of Long Beach.

Louis Hovater, vice president of Globe Linings, Inc., said that the panels 10 feet long, 4 feet wide and ½ inch thick, were laid side-by-side and joints between them sealed with a narrower strip of paneling using a special hot adhesive.

Thomas G. Meyer and Son, of San Francisco, were general contractors for the project.

S.M. County Observes Dental Week

Last week was declared National Children's Dental Health Week. In co-operation with the San Mateo County Dental society, The Post will present a group of articles on questions and answers in dental health.

Is it really worth the effort to keep my own teeth? Aren't artificial dentures just as good?

During the average liftime, a person consumes some 38 tons of food. That is enough to provide a banquet for a capacity crowd at Madison Square Garden and for all of the guests at the world's three largest hotels. Most of that food has to be chewed; chewing is the chief purpose for which you need your teeth.

Sound, healthy teeth also are essential to your appearance and for propert speech.

While artificial dentures usually are attractive and function adequately, they are not just as good as your own teeth, any more than an artificial hand is just as good as your own hand.

My neighbor told me her dentist says that teeth can last a lifetime. Is this possible?

Yes, it is possible. Teeth are designed to last a lifetime. You and your children can keep your own teeth if you conscientiously follow the rules of preventive dentistry.

The first thing to be recognized is that teeth require daily care if they are to remain in good health. This means eating a balanced died low in sweets and always brushing your teeth immediately after eating. In addition, it is important that you visit your dentist regularly so that any dental problems that do develop can be taken care of promptly.

Children who, from birth, drink water containing 1 part per million fluoride have up to 60 per cent less decay than might otherwise develop. Where the water is not flouridated, topical applications of flouride are of value in helping to prevent decay.

I am now 30 years old and have never had any wisdom teeth. Is this unusual?

No, it is not too unusual. Twenty-five per cent of the people never get third molars. Incidentally, whether or not you have wisdom teeth has nothing to do with how wise you are. The custom of calling the third molars wisdom teeth apparently arose just because the teeth appear late, usually from the 17th to the 22nd year.

$2,297,000 for Naval Research

Congressman J. Arthur Younger Thursday announced that the Department of the Navy through the Office of Naval Research is renewing a contract with Stanford university in the amount of $2,297,000 for additional research and development in the field of nuclear physics.

The contract is the renewal of a program which has been in progress for the past 15 years and will be administered by the university's high energy physics laboratories, Younger said.

S.J. State Offers S.M. Classes

Twelve evening courses will be offered in San Mateo County by the Extension Services of San Jose State College. Eight classes will meet in San Mateo, three in Redwood City and one in Menlo Park.

Classes meet weekly from 7 to 10 p.m. and a fee of $10 per unit is charged those enrolled.

A brief description of the San Mateo courses follow:

San Mateo—Drawing and Painting for the Eelementary Classroom, two units, Thursdays, auditorium, Turnbull school, Poplar and North Delaware, Richard Sperisen, instructor.

Group Procedures in Educational and Occupational Guidance, three units, Wednesday, Room 105, Building A., Hillsdale High school, Thirty-first and Del Monte streets, Dr. C. Denny Auchard, instructor.

Audio-Visual Curriculum Materials and Techniques, two units, Tuesdays, beginning Tuesday, cafetorium, Borel School, Barneson and Rhus Sts., Dr. John M. Hofstrand, instructor.

Music in the Nursery School, two units, Wednesdays, beginning today, Carey School, 2101 Alameda de Las Pulgas, Mrs. Doris Grant, instructor.

Kane Heads California, Nevada AP

Walter Kane, publisher of the Bakersfield Californian, Thursday was elected president of the California-Nevada Associated Press, succeeding Times publisher-editor J. Hart Clinton, who served the past year.

Warren Brown Jr., publisher of the Richmond Independent, was elected vice president, and Walter Burroughs, publisher of the Costa Mesa Orange Coast Daily Pilot, was named secretary-treasurer.

Meeting in San Francisco, the newsmen heard a Detroit editor who last summer took an 8000-mile trip through the Soviet Union say that the Russians do not want any co-existence of ideas, despite scientific and cultural exchanges.

Lee Hills, president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, made the statement in a speech to the California-Nevada AP annual meeting.

Hills, executive editor of the Detroit Free Press and of the Knight newspapers, headed a group of American editors on a Russian tour last summer.

"The contrast between the free press of America and the controlled press of the U.S.S.R. probably explains as well as anything why freedom and communism are locked in a worldwide struggle and will continue to be for some time," Hills said.

"The American people are more aware of and more knowledgeable about our leading adversary and competitor than ever before.

"No matter how much you read about communism, you almost have to go to Russia to get the full impact of how the Communist system of thought control is keeping the world divided. It would be no exaggeration for the Kremlin bosses to boast that 'propaganda is our most important product,'" Hills said.

Earlier, Wes Gallagher, general manager of AP, said the cooperative news gathering service was going to increase analytical articles to point up the significance of daily news and bring it into sharper perspective.

Gallagher said a special writing staff was being established in Washington, D. C., to develop enterprise material and that this idea would be extended to other areas of the nation.

S.S.F. Widow To School Job

Mrs. Virginia King, 556 Parkway terrace, South San Francisco, was appointed last week to the county board of education.

The board named Mrs. King, widowed mother of four, to be the board representative from trustee area No. 3, which is the area of the South San Francisco Unified school district. She succeeds Thomas Needham, who moved from South San Francisco to Millbrae and now represents trustee area No. 5 on the board.

The appointment extends only through June to the end of the unexpired term and will be subject to election April 16.

Mrs. King, who has lived in the area since 1944, has a background in business administration and is employed in the personnel department of the Hilton Inn.

Prior to the death of her husband in a plane crash, she was active in P-TA work and served on school election boards.

In other action last week, the board appointed Col. John Tinker, 275 Mendocino road, Brisbane, to fill a vacancy on the Brisbane school district board. Tinker, who is scheduled to retire soon from the Army at the Presidio in San Francisco, has been active in scouting and a leader in the Baptist church. His position will also be subject to election in April.

Pacific Parade

By DON MILLER

WHEN GEORGE WRIGHT rose ethereal-like out of the mammoth pit of San Francisco's Fox theatre at midnight Friday night, one of the most remarkable sounds of the 20th century filled the ornate old baroque hall.

Wright was at the helm of the mighty Fox Wurlitzer organ, one of only five of its type ever built in this country. Considered the country's top theatre organist, he proceeded to offer the first of two successive midnight Farewell to the Fox concerts.

Some 9000 Wright and Fox aficionados filled the theatre on the two nights — a rather astounding state of affairs that begs the thought that theatre organ music, rather than dying, is enjoying a robust comeback.

The only trouble with the comeback is that it faces a decidedly bleak future at the rate the old monarchs of the silver screen are being reduced to rubble. Like the Fox.

The Fox, as you all know, is on its deathbed. The people of San Francisco decided some 16 months ago at a special referendum that they didn't like the idea of a special bond issue to finance purchase of the theatre for a city convention hall.

All efforts, including some of the most strenuous machinations, since then to save the Market street giant have failed. And so, the theatre, perhaps the country's greatest monument to a fantastic era in the movies, will be demolished to make way for an office building.

★ ★ ★

SOMEHOW it doesn't add up. The Fox was built at a cost of $55-million, some $3-million more than the late William Fox had planned to shell out. Today, the cost of reproducing what longtime Mayor James Rolph in 1929 called 'the most remarkable playhouse ever built" would be astronomical.

We can sympathize with Fox West Coast Theatres, the landlord, for seeking a solution to an uneconomical operation. But we find it hard to believe that the public is willing to permit such a remarkable structure to vanish from the San Francisco — and American — scene forever. In 1929, it probably would have been inconceivable to Fox, and even more so to Mrs. Fox, that his "Shrine to the world," as he called it, would be just another ruin only 34 years later.

Fox decided to build his cinema palace with its walnut and 18-carat gold leaf lobby to crown a meteoric movie empire-building career that reached its height in 1926.

He planned the most expensive theatre in his chain of some 800 filmhouses and decided he wanted a 1000-room luxury hotel to go along with it on adjoining land. Complications, including the discovery of an underground river, vetoed the hotel.

When the Fox opened June 28, 1929, the greatest mob of Hollywood luminaries ever seen in San Francisco was on hand — oggled by an estimated one million spectators along Market street. The glittering first night crowd that filled all of the 5000 Fox seats marveled at an opulent collection of art objects, gathered from all over the world by Mrs. Fox.

They ambled to their seats through a lobby covered with a $355,000 rose and gold one-piece, hand-loomed carpet, the largest single carpet ever woven.

They strode up a stairway from the lobby that has been favorably compared with the elegant grand staircase in the Paris Opera House. In the lower ladies lounge,, women marveled at luxurious decor — achieved only after five tries. Mrs. Fox was dissatisfied with the first four attempts — and at a total cost of $36,000.

In the main theater, the blue ribbon assemblage was easily upstaged by giant deep-set arches, wrought with fresco work and flanked by towering gold-etched columns. Overhead, an immense muraled dome, the painstaking work of an Italian artist, was illuminated by indirect lighting.

And so on — to the tune of millions of dollars in cost. The Fox was — and is — an incredible edifice. But a pile of rubble in another six months or so? No, it just doesn't seem possible — or right.

★ ★ ★

APPARENTLY it didn't seem so either to most of the 4500 at Wright's concert Friday night. When Wright read an announcement from the theatre management, telling of the forthcoming demise of the Fox, a serpentine hiss surged up from the orchestra and down from the five balconies.

When he threw the typed announcement into the pit, a roar of approval welled up from the audience.

After the concert — even though it was 3 a.m. — large knots of people lingered on to admire the remnants of Mrs. Fox's art collection, to inspect the four-manual organ console, to walk slowly through the carpeted halls and to dream, perhaps, of that other era.

Although demolition of the building isn't supposed to start for another two or three weeks, the operation is already underway — unofficially. Patrons of the Fox for the past several weeks have been diligently, sometimes ingeniously but seemingly always without conscience hacking away at the imported brocade adorning seats and wall panels.

One of the most treasured items, it appears, is the brocade used on the back of seats, bearing the letter F. We suspect that in years to come, one of the hallmarks of the city's 400 might be ownership of one of these seat backs.

In self defense, the theatre management has removed, by and large, anything easily moved and stored these objects for auction. Still, we noticed more than one green-eyed patron Friday night, testing the top of a railing or fingering the arm of a Louis XIV chair.

Third Polio Vaccine Drive Ready

With the third and final phase of the Bay Area's K. O Polio mass immunization program coming up March 10, Dr. Edward B. Shaw, chairman, has restated some conclusions about the oral Sabin Type III vaccine.

He pointed out that the U. S. Surgeon General and the California Department of Public Health agree that the full course of vaccination should be provided for all ages with emphasis on families with children, pregnant women and persons planning foreign travel.

Types I and II Sabin vaccine were given persons throughout the six Bay Area counties on Sept. 23 and Nov. 4. Immunization of Type III was delayed while an investigation was made of polio risk involved with taking the vaccine.

The risk factor cannot be completely proved or disproved, the Bay Area Medical Association polio committee said, "but if it exists it is less than one per million immunizations."

Fashion Show Prize

DONATION—Mrs. Peter Wall holds a cigarette box that is one of several donations to be given away as door prizes for a fashion show, sponsored by the Women's Guild of Holy Angels church. Mrs. Wall is co-chairman of the show. At left is Mrs. Raymond Leahy, chairman of the program, called "Grecian Fantasy." The show and a luncheon will be held at noon Saturday in the grand ballroom of the Fairmont hotel in San Francicso.

S.M. Demos Named To Central Group

Adolph C. "Bud" Harrison, chairman of the San Mateo county Democratic Central committee, has announced county and guest membership appointees to the county committee.

F. Jose deLarios of South San Francisco was appointed county chairman of the new citizens' committee.

Don Barr of Menlo Park, Robert Bullock of San Mateo, Patrick Dailey of Woodside, Doris Eisen of Pacifica, Arlen Gregorio of San Mateo and Wayne Hea of Atherton were appointed to the central committee's finance board. Along with Chairman Harrison and the United Democratic Fund, their task will be to aid in financing future political campaigns.

In connection with the guest membership appointees to the county committee, Harrison said, "It's in the interest of broadening the base of Democratic party leadership that such appointments are made."

Guest members, along with associate members of the Democratic Central committee, have all the rights of regularly elected members, except the vote.

Pacifican Found Dead

Fred Earl Merrin, 64, 283 Channing Cross road, lay dead in his bed between two and three days before being discovered by a friend last Wednesday afternoon, Pacifica police reported.

Officers said Merrin's body was found lying face up on his bed by a friend, Edward L. Cadwell, 263 Clarendon road, Pacifica, who went to the house after not hearing from Merrin, who had been ill, since last Saturday. Officers said a front door was open and a light over the bed was still burning. Merrin was dressed in jeans and a white shirt.

FOOD SECTION

KOLACHE — An American version, made with cornmeal, of a popular European sweet bun filled with fruit.

Czechoslovakian Kolache Is Adaptable to America

American cooks like to adapt foreign recipes for yeast breads to suit their own fancies. Now comes a version of Kolache, popular in Czechoslovakia and some of the other European countries.

What's Kolache? Sweet filled buns. Dried fruits are popular for the fillings because they add tang as well as sweetness.

The original rule for Kolache calls for all white flour, but this strictly U.S.A. version substitutes part cornmeal.

Two fillings for the buns are given in this recipe, one usihg prunes and the other apricots. When we tested the rule, we halved each filling recipe and had two kinds of Kolache at one baking.

AMERICAN KOLACHE

¾ cup milk
½ cup butter or margarine
⅓ cup sugar
1½ teaspoons salt
¾ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 packages active dry yeast
½ cup warm (105 to 115 degrees) water
3 to 3½ cups sifted flour
2 egg yolks (lightly beaten)
1 cup enriched white cornmeal
Prune or Apriot Filling

Scald milk; pour over butter, sugar, salt and lemon rind; stir until butter is melted; cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast over warm water and stir to dissolve. Stir 1 cup flour and the egg yolks into the milk mixture; add dissolved yeast and cornmeal. Stir in enough additional flour to make a soft dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas; knead until satiny—about 10 minutes. Place in greased bowl; brush lightly with melted butter. Cover and let rise in a warm place until double in bulk, about 1 hour. Punch down; let rise again until nearly double, about 30 minutes. Punch down; shape into 24 two-inch balls; place on cookie sheets. Cover; let rise until light, about 20 minutes. Make a depression in center of each and fill each with about 1 tablespoon Prune or Apricot Filling. Brush with melted butter. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes. Serve warm or reheat.

Prune Filling: Mix together 2 cups finely chopped drained cooked prunes, ¼ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon and ¼ teaspoon salt. Enough for 24 Kolache.

Tuna Roll Good Sunday Night Dish

A friend of ours often makes this dish for her family when the ingredients are at hand. A good Sunday night dish.

Tuna Roll Parsley Sauce
Buttered Broccoli Carrot Sticks
Fruit and Cookies Beverage

TUNA ROLL

2 cups biscuit mix
2-3 cup (about) milk
2 cans (6½ ounces each) tuna
1 medium onion (finely chopped)
1-3 to ½ cup finely diced celery
1 egg (slightly beaten)

Stir together biscuit mix and milk to make a soft dough; turn out on a pastry cloth; turn over and knead half a dozen times. Roll out into a 14 by 9 inch rectangle. Drain tuna and mix with onion, celery and egg; taste and add salt and pepper if needed. Spread tuna mixture over biscuit dough. Roll up jelly-roll fashion; seal ends; slash at 5 even intervals. Place on a well-greased cookie sheet or jelly roll pan, edge side down. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes. Serve hot. Makes 6 servings.

Use Variety Protein-Rich Taste Tempter

How many different ways have you served Wieners lately? Only one or two? But there are so many ways to serve them with a variety of foods!

Of course Wieners are fun-to-eat in buns or with baked beans and potato salad. But you'll find they are equally at home in an Italian Spaghetti Sauce or a West Indian Curry.

They also may be served as an appetizer, or featured in a soup, salad or main meat dish. Wieners are expertly seasoned and fully cooked. . . the easy-to-use meat in your favorite recipes.

It's Season for Rich Desserts

Generously proportioned Creamy Cheese Cake is an elegant dessert to serve seasonal guests. Made with cream cheese, sweetened condensed milk and sour cream, the cake wins praise for its smooth texture. Grated orange rind heightens the cake's flavor. The crust and topping of this baked cheese cake are of convenient packaged corn flake crumbs.

As an added touch, serve wedges of creamy cheese cake topped with a slightly thickened cooked fruit sauce. Choose cherries, pineapple or cranberries.

Party pies are also popular for weekend entertaining. Sure to be a success is Maraschino Cherry Bavarian Pie. This refrigerator pie has a shell of melted smei-sweet chocolate, butter and oven-toasted rice cereal. The fluffy filling features colorful chopped maraschino cherries. A garnish of shaved or grated chocolate adds a final note of elegance to the dessert.

6 cups corn flakes or
1½ cups packaged corn flake crumbs
1-3 cup soft butter or margarine
¼ cup sugar
3 8-ounce packages cream cheese, softened
1 1-3 cups (15-oz. can) sweetened condensed milk
4 eggs, separated
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon confectioners' sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
1 teaspoon grated orange or lemon rind
½ teaspoon salt

If using corn flakes, crush into fine crumbs. Combine corn flake crumbs, butter and sugar; mix well. Reserve ½ cup crumbs mixture for topping; press remainder evenly and firmly into bottom of 10-inch spring-form pan.

Using electric mixer, combine cheese and milk. Increase speed while adding egg yolks, one at a time, beating well after each addition until mixture is very smooth. Decrease speed slightly and add sour cream, sugar, vanilla and orange rind. Beat egg whites with salt until stiff but not dry; fold into cheese mixture. Pour into crumb-lined pan; top with reserved crumb mixture. Bake in slow oven (300 degrees F.) about 1½ hours, or until knife inserted near center comes out clean. Cool in oven with door open. Do not remove from pan until completely cold.

Yield: 1 10-inch cheese cake.

MARASCHINO CHERRY BAVARIAN PIE

1 cup (6 oz.) semi-sweet chocolate pieces
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2½ cups oven-toasted rice cereal
1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
1¼ cups cold milk
3 eggs, separated
½ cup sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring
½ cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained
1 cup heavy cream
Grated unsweetened chocolate

Melt chocolate and butter over hot but not boiling water. Remove from heat; add oven-toasted rice cereal and stir until cereal is well-coated. Press evenly and firmly around sides and bottom of buttered 9-inch pie pan. Set in cool place to harden.

Soften gelatin in ¼ cup of the cold milk. Beat egg yolks slightly; combine with gelatin mixture, ¼ cup of the sugar, salt and remaining milk. Cook over hot but not boiling water, stirring frequently, until mixture coats a metal spoon. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla. Chill until mixture begins to set, beat until smooth. Beat egg whites until foamy; add remaining sugar gradually, beating until stiff but not dry. Whip cream. Fold beaten egg whites, whipped cream and cherries into gelatin mixture. Spread in chocolate pie shell; sprinkle with grated chocolate. Chill until firm.

Yield: 1 9-inch pie.

Leftover Ham Good For Salad

If you had ham over the weekend, you can use a little of the leftovers in this salad.

New England Clam Chowder
Sarah's Salad
Fruit Muffins

SARAH'S SALAD

6 eggs
2 tablespoons chili sauce
1 tablespoon mayonnaise
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
½ cup finely diced cooked ham
Salt, pepper and paprika
Salad greens

Hard-cook the eggs; shell; cut into halves lenghtwise. Remove yolks and mash fine; mix in chili sauce, mayonnaise, green pepper, ham and salt and pepper to taste. Spoon yolk mixture back into egg-white cavities; sprinkle with paprika. Serve on salad eggs per portion.

Try Three Layers Chocolate Cake

Have you noticed that when Chocolate Layer Cake is listed on a restaurant menu, it usually turns out to be a white cake filled and covered with chocolate frosting? For years we've listened to diners-out question this terminology, and we've protested that this dessert should be called Chocolate-frosted White Layer Cake but to no avail!

So our advice to semanticists is to give up and enjoy the cake not only in a restaurant but at home. Bake it in your own kitchen with this recipe. It produces three light and fluffy layers. The frosting is the confectioners-sugar type with added marshmallows, and it has excellent chocolate flavor; but although it's extremely smooth, it's not satin-smooth, so don't expect that quality. We like to embed salted nuts or miniature macaroons over the top and sides of the frosting, but that's not strictly necessary.

CHOCOLATE LAYER CAKE

2 1-3 cups sifted cake flour
2¼ teaspoons double-acting baking powder
½ teaspoon salt
¾ cup butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 eggs
2-3 cup milk
Chocolate Frosting

Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Cream butter, sugar and vanilla. Beat in eggs thoroughly, one at a time. Gently beat in sifted dry ingredients in 4 additions, alternately with milk, until smooth each time. Turn into 3 round 8-inch layer-cake pans that have been lined on the bottom with paper. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees) oven 20 to 25 minutes or until a cake tester inserted in the center comes out clean. Turn out on wire racks; remove paper; cool. Fill and cover with Chocolate Frosting.

CHOCOLATE FROSTING

6 cups sifted confectioners sugar
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
2-3 cup milk
16 large (4 ounces) marshmallows (cut into halves)
2 cups (two 6-ounce packages) glazed semi-sweet chocolate pieces
6 tablespoons butter or margarine

In a large bowl, stir together until smooth the sugar, salt, vanilla and 1-2 cup of the milk. Melt the marshmallows in the remaining 1-3 cup milk over low heat; add chocolate and butter; stir until smooth. Pour chocolate mixture over sugar mixture in bowl; beat until blended. If frosting is not thick enough for spreading, let stand in a cool place, stirring occasionally, before using. Makes about 4 coups.

Fresh Sausage Isn't Cured

Fresh sausage, as the same suggests, is made of meats that have not been cured—generally, selected cuts of fresh pork and beef blended with distinctive seasonings.

Its taste, texture, tenderness and color are directly related to the ratio of fat to lean. Fresh sausage must always be kept under refrigeration, and must be cooked thoroughly before serving.

PERFECTION SALAD—A jellied mold featuring green cabbage, celery and pimiento-stuffed olives adds a piquant note to cold cuts or a hot meat or fish dish.

Sorority Darling

Darling of sorority and guest houses, Perfection Salad arrived on the scene over a quarter of a century ago. It's been going strong ever since.

How the salad got its name is anyone's guess, though it has been treated to other titles through the years.

Originally this salad was made with unflavored gelatin, and sometimes it still is. But short-order cooks eventually began using lemon-flavored gelatin as the base and this formula became popular.

NEW PERFECTION SALAD

1 package (3 ounces) lemon-lime flavored gelatin
½ teaspoon salt
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons lemon juice
¾ cup cold water
1 cup fine knife-shredded green cabbage (lightly packed)
½ cup finely diced celery
12 pimien-to-stuffed green olives (thinly sliced)
Salad greens
Mayonnaise if desired

Stir together the gelatin, salt and boiling water until gelatin dissolves. Stir in lemon juice and cold water. Chill until slightly thickened. Fold in cabbage, celery and olives; turn into a 3-cup ring or other mold, or into 6 individual molds. Chill until set. Unmold and garnish with salad greens; pass mayonnaise if used. Makes 6 servings.

Bess Weller's Frozen Lemon Pie

BESS WELLER'S FROZEN LEMON PIE

1 small package (¼ pound) vanilla wafers
3 eggs (separated)
½ cup sugar
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk (Chilled)
¼ cup lemon juice

Roll wafers into fine crumbs. Butter bottom of a refrigerator tray; cover with half the wafer crumbs; reserve remaining crumbs. Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually beat in sugar; continue to beat if necessary until very glossy and they hold stiff straight peaks. Thoroughly beat egg yolks, one at a time, into beaten whites. Gradually beat in lemon juice. Whip evaporated milk until stiff; fold into lemon mixture. Pour over crumbs in refrigerator tray; sprinkle with remaining crumbs. Fast-freeze for 4 hours. Makes 8 servings.

Flaming Pizza Romano's Special

Enrico Romano is about to cause a sensation in the "disc" world by serving a flaming pizza.

"I have been working on this for a long time," said the Italian food champ, "and I want you to be one of the first to sample it."

This, I can hardly wait to do. Brings to mind the old days when I was a fire eater in a circus.

Bruno Scatena's Joe's of Westlake has two dining rooms, plus a counter, which eliminates long luncheon and dinner waits.

Kiddies Welcome At Foster's Farm

Fosters Farm in Hillsdale is an ideal family dining spot. When stopping in for the new full course turkey and pot roast dinners, there is a special plate for the kiddies which tabs out for just $1.25. Heaping helpings to satisfy the little gourmet appetities. P.S.: Don't overlook the desserts. Hot apple pie with cinnamon sauce, Hawaiian or wild blackberry sundae.

Lew Lehr, the Marina steak man, has his own definition of a bartender: "A man who brings you into contact with the spirit world."

Standing Ovation For Sinaloa Team

Dolores Valencia, Gerardo Casado, who compose the new Sinaloa dance team of Ardo and Valencia, accompanied by guitarist Juan Gutierrez, receive standing ovations after their sensational Flamenco and Spanish dance performances. This is one of the most talented acts to appear at the Powell Street cantina in years.

Fine Food in Any Language

The Armenian dishes, served at George Mardikian's Omar Khayyam's restaurant, contrary to what one might imagine, are not rich and heavily spiced. They are standard items of fine food, delicately flavored and served in an entirely new way—created to excite your palate with a new experience. The food at Omar Khayyam's is fine food in any language.

An unknown party took some vacuum cleaner parts from the Princeton Inn. Owner Milt Tonini suggests that whoever helped himself, come back and get the rest of them as the remaining half won't do him any good. In plain words, says Milt, I might as well be "cleaned" out.

Phil Lehr has a dandy deal for those bound for "Mutiny On The Bounty": Complete dinner for two, choice seats, at an attractive price. Dinner at his downtown steakery includes steak cut right at your table.

Barney O'Malia Due Home

Barney O'Malia, owner of Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada, is due back from a Florida vacation, this week. Barney had plans to bask in the sun, go deep sea fishing, and just plain get away from the Nevada winter snows. However, Lake Tahoe weather has been on a par with Florida's, of late.

Rocca's restaurant co-owner, Lou Rocca, Jr., saw a small, red sports car, top down, traveling on Golden Gate Ave. just as the rain started, the other afternoon. The passenger calmly opened a big, black umbrella and held it open as the car zoomed on.

Happy Birthday Nick Gust

Alert Mary Ann Hay, vocalist at Nick's Pacifica restaurant, pens a line to help keep your "Bright-Lighter" current on the club's activities: The Foremost Dairy Company held a farewell get together for two retiring gents who had been with the company for 33 years.

Another highlight of the weekend: Nick's birthday celebration (February 2). The candles on his cake were so bright that you could have used it for a beacon.

The Brentwood Lodge Franciscan Room, with a refreshing view of a picturesque terrace and waterfall, offers unexcelled facilities for banquets, and is a magnificent setting for fashion shows and receptions.

HARRY JAMES AND HIS MUSIC-MAKERS, and Louis Prima headline the entertainment program at Harrah's Reno Show Lounge and Stateline Lounge respectively. With Prima is Sam Butera and the Witnesses, and Singer Gia Miaone. Topping the entertainment program in the South Shore Room at Harrah's Tahoe is Judy Garland, making her Harrah's debut. Also at the Reno Show Lounge is hypnotist Arthur Ellen, the Frankie Brent Review, Travelers 3, and Santo and Johnny. At the Stateline Lounge will be, in addition to Prima, Johnnie "Scat" Davis, The Three Suns, and The Brothers Castro . . . Reggie Dahl, who, after singing "I Could Have Danced All Night" in his special act at Pinocchio's, proceeds to dance to the melody. After about three minutes of strenuous work, he winds up at augmented speed. Just before exciting remarks: "Show me anyone who could dance like that all night."

40 Pupils Shaken Up

DALY CITY BUS CRASH — Three school children were injured in this bus crash at Vista Grande and San Diego streets in Daly City Thursday when the bus collided with a salvage truck. (Post-Times photo)

School Bus, Truck Crash; Three Hurt

One youngster was hospitalized, two others treated for minor injuries, and a score of others shaken up Thursday, when a chartered Greyhound school bus and a truck collided at Vista Grande and San Diego avenues in Daly City.

The collision caused the bus to jump a curb before stopping on the sidewalk.

Jefferson Elementary school district officials said the accident was the first in the six years the district has been served by Greyhound.

The bus carried about 40 pupils.

The hospitalized youngster was Francis Toohey, 12, 57 Shakespeare street. He was treated at Junipero Serra hospital for a neck sprain and contusions, then transferred to St. Francis hospital in San Francisco.

Released after treatment at Junipero Serra were: William Bailey, 10, 140 Woodrow street, contusions; and Ricky Arnold, 116 Miriam street, contusions of the right knee.

Police said the truck was owned by the St. Vincent de Paul society, and operated by Girard F. Nolan, 35, of San Francisco.

The bus was operated by Robert L. Lundgren, 34, of San Francisco.

Officials said the bus was carrying the pupils from Westlake school to Woodrow Wilson school. About 90 Woodrow Wilson students attend classes at Westlake each day because of a shortage of space at their own school.

CACTUS COLLECTION

A collection of cacti in two-inch clay pots makes a fascinating window-shelf display. They are easy to care for, too, since the plants don't suffer too much if you forget to water them occasionally.

San Mateo County Heart Month in Full Swing

February Heart Month in San Mateo county is now in full swing —with almost 10,000 volunteers receiving final briefings on the Heart Sunday and Heart Day campaigns which will take place during the month.

In formally announcing Heart Month, Robert Brisacher, Heart Fund chairman, said that "the Heart Fund fights more than 20 types of heart disease and many kinds of blood vessel diseases. Almost every family is affected by heart disease in any of its many forms. Every family benefits directly or indirectly from the results of heart research."

Continuing, Brisacher said that: "The results of heart research do not stay in the laboratories but find their way back through the San Mateo County Heart association for useful benefit in the community. The Heart Fund is really a two-way street. Your financial support brings you back a wealth of benefits to give all of us the opportunity for longer, more productive lives."

Hearts-Days-for-Business started Monday and runs for 10 days; the Heart Sunday weekend starts on Heart Sunday, February 24, and continues through the following Sunday, March 3. In both cases, the added days allow both volunteers and contributors ample opportunity to fulfill their responsibilities.

The Heart Sunday campaign chairman is Mrs. Richard E. Shipley, mother of four children, a registered nurse and wife of a physician, and member of the board of directors for the San Mateo County Heart association. She is serving her second consecutive term as Heart Sunday chairman, which last year raised over $66,000.

The Heart - Days - for - Business campaign chairman is Francis W. Pearson Jr., Redwood City civic leader who is also serving his second year as business chairman.

Brisacher said that "the heart association through its many chapters and affiliates is the only national voluntary organization that fights all of the heart and circulatory diseases. Heart attack alone was responsible for more than 490,000 deaths in the United States last year. Almost every issue of our newspaper carries local mention of death or disability due to heart disease."

"The meaning of the Heart Fund carries real significance when we realize that it benefits people in every age group, children included," Brisacher continued.

Drive for Junior Achievers

A goal of $75,000 has been set for the February finance campaign of Junior Achievement of San Francisco, Chairman Emmett G. Solomon, 2335 Summit drive, Hillsborough, announced at the kick-off meeting of campaign workers. In the 1962 drive, $63,000 was subscribed.

Solomon told the 200 solicitors assembled in the Bethlehem Steel building auditorium that the local organization is failing to meet all of its opportunities in its chartered area of San Francisco, San Mateo and Marin counties. He said:

"In the current program, more than twice as many young people applied as could be accommodated. We had almost 3000 applicants; we had to turn down 1500 of them."

County Has Big Future, Says Speaker

An enthusiastic audience of more than 250 of San Mateo county's leading merchants, retailers, and service representatives Wednesday heard a keynote speaker tell them that the county's position as the eighth richest county in the nation, outranking many whole states, "is exciting, dynamic and we have not begun to realize its full potential."

The speaker was Richard Oddie, assistant vice president, area development, of Bank of America. The occasion was the third advertising workshop conducted by The Post-Times at the Hilton Inn.

Oddie told his listeners that San Mateo county "has a high rating in the timetable of opportunity," that it is "enjoying balanced growth," that "the business climate is good," and that the county successfully meets all the tests "as a pleasant place to live, an attractive place to visit, a profitable place to invest, and for community livability."

He scored off merchants and businessmen "who don't measure up" to the progress spread before them and told his audience, in conclusion, that to succeed in their plans and their profits they must have the "mental muscle to hold their dreams in focus until they become realities."

Oddie spoke his keynote remarks at the luncheon session of the all-day advertising workshop and was introduced by Times Publisher and Editor J. Hart Clinton, who also introduced other guests, speakers and members of The Post-Times staff.

At the morning session the group was welcomed by Times General Manager Harold Schlotthauer and advertising executives. The morning study session was conducted by Clyde Bedell, noted writer and lecturer on advertising.

During the afternoon display advertisers were guests at a further session conducted by Bedell. A session for classified advertisers featured a panel consisting of Morton McDonald, author and former classified manager of the Oakland Tribune; Jack Underwood, assistant to the vice president and general manager of the Los Angeles Times, and Henry Milano, Sacramento real estate executive.

The workshop was concluded late in the afternoon by a cocktail party at which all of the speakers, panelists and others in attendance were guests of The Times. The workshop was arranged by Gerson Miller, national advertising and promotion manager of The Times.

Daly City Baby Is Found Dead

Robert Shoemaker, the 2½-month-old son of Ronald and Sharon Shoemaker, 320 Lake Merced drive, Daly City, was reportedly found dead in his bed at 7 a.m. last Wednesday.

The San Mateo county coroner's office was told the mother had checked the baby at 6:40 a.m., and that it appeared all right at that time. When she returned to the bedroom at 7 a.m., the baby seemed dead, she told officers.

Firemen and police attempted resuscitation, and rushed the infant to Junipero Serra hospital, where oxygen was administered. The child had not been sick, Mrs. Shoemaker told officers.

Woman Dissuades Intruder

A Daly City housewife fast-talked a 16-year-old San Francisco youth out of assaulting her February 3, Daly City police have reported.

The youth was picked up later, and charged with attempted rape and armed robbery for allegedly robbing the Mission Bell motel December 12. The woman told police she was approached by the youth while she was in the laundry room of her apartment house.

He said he was hunting for an apartment unit, and then brandished a four-inch knife, saying: "Don't scream, or I'll kill you. Strip down."

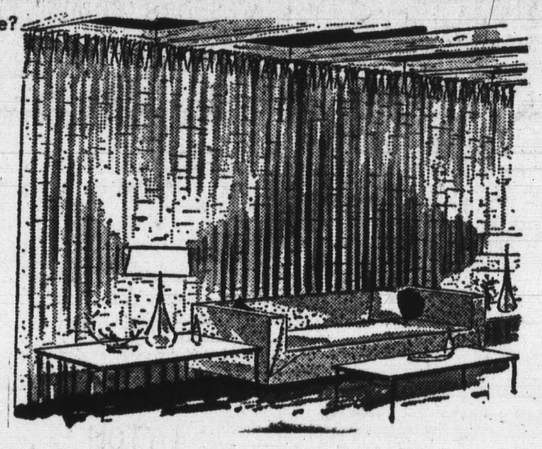

The woman told the youth she was pregnant, and was feeling sick. He then left.

Police picked up the youth after the woman saw his picture among a series shown to her by officers. The youth gave conflicting stories, under questioning, police said.

A description of the weapon he brandished fitted that of a weapon used in the robbery of the motel, authorities said.
